TRUST COMPANIES ARE CONSIDERED

Important Section of American Bankers' Association at Los Angelis.

MORE RIGID EXAMINATION

Such Was Gist of President's Recommendations—Their Soundness During Stringency Theme of Committee's Report.

Los Angeles, Call., October 5.—The selection of Charles H. Hutting, president of th ..hird National Bank, of St. Louis, as the next chairman of the executive council of thew American Bankers' Association, was made almost a certainty today by the withdrawal of William George, of Aurora, Ill. The formal election does not take place until Friday.

F. O. Watts, president of the First National Bank, of Nashville, and vice-president of the aossociation, is scheduled to succeed to the pres.dency, according to the custom of the association.

San Antonio, New Orleans, Atlantic City and Richmond, Va., want the convention next year and a hard fight is on between these cities.

Interest in the work of the bankers centered today in the business session of the trust company section, and in the annual meeting of the secretaries of the State bankers' associations.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 5.—The Trust Company section of the American Bankers' Association met in business session today. In the absence of President H. P. McIntosh, Vice President Oliver C. Fuller called the meeting to order and read the address of the president.

The address urges a more frequent and rigid bank examination of the State. The report says:

"The question of bank examinations is one of which a great deal has been said and written in recent years, resuling in the enactment of laws in some of the State providing for the examinations and regulation of these institutions, which has already had a beneficent effect on the general situation, as well as beneficial to both the banks and the public.

"It may be pertinent to inquire to what extent the examination of banks should go? It would seem in this matter that the more frequent and thorough such examinations are made the better.

"If it were possible for a banking department to make at least three examinations a year, at irregular times, of every bank within its jurisdiction, the examiners spending sufficient time to make a thorough audit and to become familiar with the affairs of such banks, checking over every item of their assets, investigating the paper and investments carried, and be able to intelligently advise where mistakes had been made, and firmly insist upon the laws under which such banks are acting to be observed that would be a condition to be desired.

"No bank operating under State or United States laws, if it is conducting its business as required by the laws of such State or the United States, need fear examinations, however frequent or thorough, but, on the contrary, will welcome such examinations and lend its aid to the agents appointed to make the same. I believe that all legislation providing for the general bettering of the banking situation and tending to give more frequent and rigid bank examination should receive the hearty support of every bank official, so that the day may come when such a thing as a bank failure shall be a memory of the past and all banks shall be safe and sound.

"It will add to the credit of trust companies to seek such legislation rather than to have it forced upon them. Let us continue to harp on this subject until every State has State examination of trust companies.

"Another law that should be enacted in many States is one providing that an insolvent trust company be liquidated by the State Superintendent of Banks instead of the usual way of by a receiver appointed by a court, which in too many cases results in the appointment of a party more distinguished in politics than in finances, resulting usually in a very expensive liquidation, while the expenses of liquidations by State Banking Departments have demonstrated that these are very much less than the former."

The report of the executive committee was read by Lawrence L. Gillespie, chairman.

"The soundness and strength of the banks and trust companies in the existing state of a depressed security market was the theme of the report of the committee.

"We have during the past six months experienced a new kind of a panic which did not assume the gravity of a depression. It was a public spread over a considerable period and came to us in a hesitating way really consisting in a depreciation of values more than in any actual apparent curtailment of trade and credit.

"In these financial difficulties we are glad to note that the trust companies of the United States have in no way been involved. With their strength and prudence demonstrated by their history, and with judgment derived from experience and self-reliance it is a matter of congratulation that they have approached closer to the banks

HOKE SMITH AGAIN ELECTED

Library of Congress

Serve Second Term as Governor Georgia—Gov. Brown Carries Counties—Tom Watson a Loser.

Atlanta, Georgia, Oct. 5.—Hoke Smith was today elected to serve a second term as governor of Georgia. Incomplete returns indicate that Governor Joseph M. Brown, who was defeated for the gubernatorial nomination in the August Democratic primary and whose name was today placed before the voters of an independent Democrat candidate probably received a majority of votes cast in two of 24 counties of the State.

All of the regular Democratic nominees for State and county offices were elected, the vote for the socialist ticket being inconsequential.

Three constitutional amendments were apparently adopted. One of these provides that counties may levy taxes in spite of high schools, the others being local in effect.

The disaffection in the Georgia democracy, manifested in the opposition to the regular nominee for Governor, was the most serious in many years, and resulted in today's vote being much larger than that normally polled in a general election.

Thomas E. Watson's home county, McDuffie, went for Smith by a vote of nearly two to one.

PRISON CONGRESS.

Capital Punishment in Russia—Criminal Problems in United States.

Washington, Oct. 5.—Russia is far behind other civilized countries of the official world in the matter of decreasing the number of death sentences according to statistics given to the International Prison Congress at its session today, by Dr. Frederic H. Wines, of Philadelphia.

"In no country does the frequency and enormous number of executions excite such horror as in Russia," said Dr. Wines. "Nowhere else is there waged so determined and unceasing war against the employment of capital punishment for the suppression of crime. This is the more worthy of remark in view of the fact that the penal code limits its application to political offenders. And yet, in virtue of the system by which offenses not political can be punished by martial law, even in time of peace, the number of executions is truly extraordinary.

"The official statistics show that in 1906-1908, 2,108 persons were legally executed. So at least, it is stated in one of the manuscript reports placed in my hands. In another, the number of military executions in 34 years from 1875 to 1908, is given as 2,678, of whom 10 per cent. only were in the army; 2,140 of them were civilians, and 2,460 were punished for infraction of the common law. In the four years—1905-1908—2,239 individuals were executed. The number of accused who were removed from the jurisdiction of civil to that of the military courts in a single year was in 1908, 7,016.

In view of facts like these, the practical unanimity among jurists scholars and authors, of the opposition to capital punishment as practiced in Russia, is not surprising."

Dr. Wines gave an interesting report on other countries but explained that statistics of homicide for the United States were unavailable at present. He declared, however, that inspite of statements to the contrary, there was strong evidence that crimes in the country was on the decrease.

Accepting the principle of conditional release on parole as indispensable, the Congress approved of these resolutions:

"That conditional release should be given on recommendation of a properly constituted board with power to recall the prisoner if his conduct should prove unsatisfactory: that the duty of caring for these liberated prisoners should be assigned to special officials or to prisoners' aid societies; that where the ordinary rules of parole do not apply, the facts should be submitted to the proper authorities so that the desired results could be brought about."

The suppression of vagabondage and street begging was advocated as necessary for social preservation. The Congress endorsed unanimously the recommendation of Section 3, that tramps should be classified, and that a system of identification should be kept by the police of all cities and towns. Work houses for this class were advocated with agriculture as the leading industry. It was advised that the period of detention be made sufficiently long to insure a thorough training. A system of conditional liberation was proposed.

This action is of especial significance for the United States where the farm colony plan for segregating tramps and beggars and making them work rapidly is becoming an important social question.

A public lecture was given tonight by T. Sanagi, one of the Japanese delegates on the subject of the administration of the penal laws in Japan.

Prior to the afternoon meeting of the Congress, Prof. R. Vamberv lectured on the subject of the training of prison officials.

Anderson, S. C., Oct. 5.—W. O. Burriss, a prominent young farmer, living seven miles north of Anderson, was instantly killed today when he fell from his gin house on which he was engaged in making repairs. His neck was broken. Mr. Furris was about 30 years old and unmarried.

SHOOTS DEPUTIES THEN KILLS SELF

White Man at Ocala, Fla., Fired Volley After Volley From Own Home.

TROOPS FINALLY CALLED OUT

Defied Arrest for Minor Offense—Fought Gamely Until Conquered and Then Blew His Head Off—Details.

Ocala, Fla., Oct. 5.—After fatally wounding Deputy Sheriff Hudson and ex-Sheriff Gordon while barricaded in his home in the suburbs of Ocala, Wm. Summerlin placed the muzzle of a rifle in his mouth and blew his head off.

For three hours Summerlin resisted the efforts of members of the police department, and deputy sheriffs to arrest him, firing on every person in sight. The Ocala rifles were called out and surrounded the house.

Shortly after nightfall the cordon closed in, the door broken down, and Summerlin's body was found on the floor with half his head blown off.

Early in the afternoon Deputy Sheriff Hudson went to Summerlin's home to serve a warrant for a minor offense. Summerlin warned the officer not to come into his yard, and when Mudson started in he was shot down. Sheriff Gordon, hearing the shot, went to the assistance of Hudson. While bending over the prostrate form of the deputy, Gordon was shot down and probably fatally wounded. Summerlin secured the rifle carried by Deputy Hudson. Barricading himself again he offered stubborn resistance to arrest.

A large crowd quickly gathered, keeping a safe distance. A guard was thrown around the house and several volleys were poured into it, but Summerlin had already killed himself.

The two wounded officers were hurried to a local hospital where after an examination their condition was pronounced critical.

EPISCOPALIANS OF AMERICA.

Forty-Third Convention of Church in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Oct. 5.—Holy communion, celebrated shortly after daybreak, marked the beginning of the forty-third convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church in America today. A few hours later the Right Rev. John Wordsworth, D. D., bishop of Salisbury, England, preached the opening sermon at Music Hall, bringing greetings from the Church of England.

The convention, which meets triennially as the supreme governing body of the Church, is expected to take action upon many matters of vital importance during the twenty-three days it will be in session.

At the communion service the presiding bishop, the Rt. Rev. Daniel S. Tuttle, of Missouri, was celebrated. He was assisted by Bishops Lawrence, Massachusetts; J. M. Kendrick, New Mexico and Arizona; S. D. Ferguson, Cape Palmas Africa; and John McKim, Tokyo.

The sacrament was first administered to the bishops, then to the clergy, and finally to lay delegates, among whom were J. Pierpont Morgan, Gifford Pinchot, Justice Lurton of the Supreme Court of the United States and John Lenon, treasurer of the American Federation of Labor.

In the opening sermon, the bishop of Salisbury, protested against measuring Christs work by worldly standards and pleaded for greater discipline in family life. He recommended also a wider study of church history.

At a meeting of the board of bishops of the triennial convention, Bishop Boyd Vincent, of the Southern Diocese of Ohio, was selected as chairman of the board of bishops.

Rev. Daniel Sylvester Tuttle, bishop of Missouri, automatically became presiding bishop of the board to succeed Bishop William Lawrence of the diocese of Massachusetts.

At the meeting of the board today a committee of seven was appointed to report tomorrow on a definition for "the open pulpit."

Many different constructions have been placed on the term.

Rev. Randolph H. McKim, rector of the Church of Ephiphany, Washington, D. C., was chosen president of the house of deputies.

Rev. McKim in making his speech of acceptance pleaded for the unity of churches and explained that 60 years ago, the Episcopal Church in this country numbered 80,000 communicants. It today boasts of 950,000 showing that while the population of the United States during 60 years has increased 400 per cent. the number of communicants in the church has increased over 1200 per cent.

New York, October 6.—Contrary to the wishes of Clarence J. Shearn, one of W. R. Hearst's chief lieutenants, the Independence League in State Convention here voted early this morning to put a straight ticket in the field and not to endorse the Republican ticket as had been proposed. The vote was 212 in favor of a straight as against 34 for an endorsement of the Republicans.

NEW INDUSTRIALISM IS URGED

As Characterized by Yoakum in Address on Improvement of Railroads and Wagon Roads—Spoke at Oklahoma Fair.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Oct. 5.—Characterizing the commercial development of the country through the improvement of railroads and wagon roads as the "new industrialism," B. F. Yoakum, chairman of the St. Louis and San Francisco Railroad Company, spoke on the subject of "Wagon Roads and Railroads, at the State Fair here today. Mr. Yoakum chose "Farmer's Day" to deliver his speech.

That "New Nationalism" is not needed to deal with the "New Industrialism," was his declaration. He said that the founders of this government naturally could have no conception of the vast interstate commerce which would move over 235,000 miles of railroad, instead of the little which then dragged over a few miles of bad wagon roads, but he insisted that this was no reason why this new development should be treated in any sense lawless, nor is there any reason for attempting to arrest it because it requires a readjustment of federal and State jurisdiction. As the commerce between States expanded and as transportation was extended, a far-reaching, connected and interdependent industrial system was created, and this must be subjected to some system of law.

"But after all," said Mr. Yoakum, "this thing called interstate commerce and these instrumentalities called railroads represent the very vitals of our national progress, and the very health and wealth of our whole people; and the people of the country, instead of being aroused by inflammatory appeals to adopt measures to destroy them, should be taught by enlightened discussion to find some way to promote them and at the same time fairly regulate them.

"Te states and the people, under the resistless force of this development, uniting the states and the people of the states in one bond of mutual interest, have been welded into an industrial whole, and a crusade against one class is a crusade against all classes. This is the New Industrialism, which has been mistaken by some as predatory wealth, by others as revolutionary plutocracy, and still by others as a cause for New Nationalism. That it must be subject to law and be obedient to government, no rational man will dispute; but that it should be made the sport of politics, the theme of demagogues, or the plaything of, socialists, every good citizen fervently hopes to prevent. If, in order to properly regulate the growth of New Industrialism, it is necessary for the Federal Government to have more power than was originally granted, let that proposal of new power be drawn up and submitted and let the power of government, in keeping pace with the commerce of the soil, the merchant and the factory, increase in as orderly a manner as the agricultural and industrial development. This new Industrialism must, and will, conform itself to the new laws of the country, but it protests that these new laws should not proceed from the hot zeal of the over-wrought political economists. If in the course of time this New Industrialism, on account of its wide-spread and far-reaching growth, should find itself under Federal control let it be so; but let that Federal control be extended in such an orderly way and by such constitutional methods as will, on the one hand, insure the stability of our government, as well as, on the other hand, promote the progress of our country."

Mr. Yoakum told the farmers that while in the past they had been disposed to bitterly antagonize the trade organizations, which control, or nearly control, many of the branches of commerce, they were beginning to adopt trust methods to work out the economies of their business. He said:

"Now the farmers themselves are properly building up large trade organizations which they mal call cooperative associations, pools or selling agencies, but under whatever name they are operated they have the same object in view as other commercial alliances. Regulations established for the control of the business of other organizations cannot be different from

FOR GOOD ROADS FORCES AT WORK

Second Annual Meeting Southern Appalachain Association at Knoxville.

JOS. HYDE PRATT PRESIDING

Four Hundred Delegates Present—Cordial Addresses of Welcome—Carolinians Taking Prominent Part—Practical Ideas.

Knoxville, Tenn., Oct. 5.—With Joseph Hyde Pratt, State Geologist of North Carolina, presiding, the second annual meeting of the Southern Appalachian Good Roads Association, began at the Appalachian Exposition auditorium today and will continue its session through tomorrow.

The 400 delegates representing every State of the Association were welcomed by Colonel L. D. Tyson, Mayor S. S. G. Heiskell and President W. J. Oliver. President Oliver, a practical road builder since he was 16 years of age, called attention to the great waste of public money which arises from placing contracts in the hands of corrupt contractors.

President Pratt commenting on Mr. Oliver's remarks said that road building must be taken out of politics and that competent supervision by States is a necessity. President Pratt then introduced Augustus E. Willson, governor of Kentucky, who reviewed the growth of the roads movement.

President T. J. Hale, of the East Tennessee Good Roads Association, reviewed the work of his organization. President Pratt spoke for North Carolina and was followed by Dr. C. P. Ambler, of Asheville, N. C., who told of what was being done in Buncombe county.

J. S. Holmes, forester of North Carolina, told of the increased profit in lumbering under the development of available roads for hauling to shipping points. S. S. W. McCallie, State Geologist of Georgia, told how his State has, to the great satisfaction of all interested pro-rated 4,500 convicts to the counties of the State for road work.

W. L. Spoon, highway engineer of North Carolina, depicted methods and results of chain gangs on the highways of that State.

Convicts who were practically worthless had gained vigor and vitality and become expert road builders.

NEGRO SHOT TWO OFFICERS.

Killed One and Seriously Wounded Another—Details.

Montgomery, Ala., October 5.—A large crowd surrounded the jail tonight, trying to get a negro, John Adams, who killed Policeman T. W. Berry and wounded Policeman L. A. Ellison today. The sheriff dispersed the crowd and a company of militia is now patrolling the streets.

Policeman T. W. Berry, was instantly killed, and Policeman Lawrence Ellyington, a mounted companion, was seriously injured today by Adams, whom they attempted to arrest on a disorderly conduct charge. In the fight the negro was wounded in the lung and may die tonight.

Montgomery, Ala., Oct. 5.—Armed soldiers with bayonets fixed are patrolling the streets of Montgomery contiguous to the jail and a heavy armed posse is inside the jail guarding John Adams, a negro, who this afternoon shot and killed Patrollman T. W. Berry and seriously wounded Officer L. A. Ellyngton.

On the streets away from the patrolled districts are gathered crowds of men discussing the assassination, but they lack leadership and it is not believed any attempt will be made to rush the jail tonight.

Two other companies, now sleeping on their arms at the armory can be instantly called out. The instructions to the soldiers and deputies are to shoot at the first movement on the jail.

Adams was shot through the lung by Officer Ellyngton after he had shot the officer, the latter using his left hand in handling his gun. Adams is said to be dying.

The officers went to his home to arrest him on a warrant charging larceny of funds belonging to a negro lodge.

Havana, October 5.—The body of Lieutenant General Francisco Aguilero, the Cuban patriot, arrived here today on the revenue cutter Yara. It was received with all honors, President Gomez meeting the body at the landing and driving with its escort to the city hall.

Here it will lie in state until tomorrow afternoon, when it will be escorted by a civic and military pageant to to the railroad station for transportation of Bayanno, where the interment will take place.

Beverly, Mass., October 5.—Senator Winthrop Murray Crane motored down to Beverly from Boston this afternoon and had a short chat with President Taft. His visit was said to have no special significance. John Mitchell is coming to see the President Saturday to talk over labor legislation. John Redmond and T. P. O'Connor will see the President Sunday.

STEVENS GRANTED NEW TRIAL

Supreme Court Holds That New Hanover Prisoner Must Again Face Jury of His Peers—Other Decisions Yesterday.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 5.—In directing a new trial in the case of Joseph Stevens, under sentence in New Hanover for killing a man named Shields, the Supreme Court today declares that of 78 exceptions on which the appeal came up, many were well taken, but that the principal error of the trial judge was in holding that in no view of the evidence, could the prisoner be acquitted upon the grounds of self-defense and in excluding pertinent evidence competent to support that plea.

Evidence of the prisoner himself was sufficient to support that plea in having it submitted to the jury with proper instructions, the court says, Justice Brown writing the opinion. After reciting the testimony of the prisoner as to the attack made on him by Shields after they had had a difficulty earlier in the day, the court says that under such circumstances, whether the prisoner used excessive force in repelling the assault with his pistol was one peculiarly for the jury. The innocence of the prisoner, the court says, depends upon whether from the whole testimony, or from that of any witness including himself, at the time of the killing, he himself was without fault and then had reasonable ground to believe the attempt of the deceased was with a design to take his life or to do him great bodily harm. Reasonableness of the prisoner's apprehensions was not a question to be decided by the prisoner or by the court, but by the jury, to whom it should have been submitted with proper instructions.

The court delivered opinions in 12 appeals all told today. The list follows: Hughes vs. Pritchard, Camden, affirmed; the Cable Company vs. Macon, Franklin no error; Powell vs. North State Mutual Life Insurance Company, Edgecombe, in plaintiff's appeal, affirmed, in defendant's appeal, new trial; State vs. Stevens, New Hanover, new trial; State vs. Winner, New Hanover, no error; Chadbourn Sash Door & Lumber Company, vs. Parker, New Hanover, affirmed; Pickett vs. Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company Duplin, no error; Newsome vs. Western Union Telegraph Company, Sampson, error; Holmes vs. Love, New Hanover, dismissed under Rule 17; McCall vs. Matthews, Wake, appeal dismissed; Eubanks vs. Deppe, Onslow, dismissed for failure to prosecute.

CHOLERA FLURRY ABATED.

Reassuring Statements From State and Federal Officers.

New York, Oct. 5.—The flurry of uneasiness over the possibility of the entrance of cholera at this port was abated today with reassuring statements from this State and Federal health offices and the release of 615 cabin passengers who had been detained at quarantine since Monday night aboard the steamships Sant 'Anna and Moltke, from Italian ports. The vessels are still held, however, and the steerage passengers of both, 2,406 in all, probably will be transferred tomorrow to Hoffman island for observation. On the Moltke there is merely one "suspicious" case, but on the Sant 'Anna a cholera victim died at sea, while in addition there are in the steerage two cases of intestinal trouble requiring treatment. Cleared of their steerage passengers, the vessels will be fumigated until it is regarded as safe to allow them to dock.

The steamship Virginia, which completed the trio of cholera suspects held up last night, received a clean bill of health today and was allowed to proceed from quarantine with all hands, steerage included.

MINERS NOW ACCUSED.

Believed to Have Wrecked Times Building in Los Angeles.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 5.—It is believed tonight that the men who carried out the plot to wreck the Times building and attempts to destroy the homes of General Harrison Gray Otis and F. K. ZeelandeIaar, were expert quartz miners from the gold fields of northern California. This theory is based on the fact that the men who purchased the dynamite used the names of J. L. Bryson, a Placer county miner, and that of his neighbor, Morris.

Los Angeles has resumed its usual calm, but precautionary measures have not been relaxed.

The council today added 85 policemen to the force. Guards still assembled about the homes of persons who have had part in recent labor disputes and about buildings where strikes are in progress. The body of Grant Moore, a linotype operator, was found in the Times ruins today. The total of bodies recovered is now 16.

BODIES NOT RECOVERED.

Victims of Battleship Tragedy Still in Hudson River.

New York, Oct. 5.—Although none of the bodies of the 20 or more victims of the disaster to the barge of the battleship New Hampshire on Saturday night has been recovered, the New Hampshire will sail for Norfolk on Friday. Practically all the warships will sail this week, but the hospital ship Solace will remain behind to care for any bodies that may be recovered. Dragging the river continued again today but without success.

The board of inquiry that investigated the accident concluded its hearing this afternoon and Rear Admiral Vreeland forwarded its report to Beekman Winthrop, acting Secretary of the Navy.

PORTUGAL RULED BY REBEL FORCES

King Compelled To Flee Leaving Lisbon in Control of Republicans.

NEW GOVERNMENT IS FORMED

Manuel Takes Refuge 23 Miles From Capital—Bombarding of Capital by Warships Ceases—Braga President.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 5.—Portugal has been proclaimed a republic. According to the latest Lisbon advices, Theophile Bragam a noted Republican leader, is the new president.

The Portugese marseillaise is the new national anthem and the emblem of monarcy on the palace has been replaced by the flag of red and green, the colors of the Republican party.

That there was fierce fighting in the streets of Lisbon is evidenced by dispatches from all quarters. Disorders at Oporto have been repressed by the troops, many regiments of which are said to be still loyal to the King.

King Manuel, the Queen mother and the Queen Dowager are reported to have taken refuge in the palace at Mafra, a short distanee out of Lisbon. They may now be on a British warship bound for Gibraltar. At least they are considered to have reached a place of safety.

London advices state that by a treaty of alliance Great Britain is bound to afford protection to the King of Portugal, if this is "duly applied for." The French newspapers are urging the government of France not to permit intervention, even if Spain, too, is threatened with an overthrow. The French cabinet will meet tomorrow and deliberate on the Portuguese situation and the advisability of sending a warship to Libson.

Already warships are on the way to protect British interests at the scene of the trouble. The American gunboats Petrel and Wheeling are at Genoa, within easy sail of Libson, if the American government decides to send them there.

No detailed account of the fight has yet been received or any definite estimate of the casualties. A significant incident, according to the Lisbon dispatches, is the visit paid by the Spanish minister to the Republican leaders after the fall of the palace and the flags of the revolution was hoisted on the townhall.

Lisbon, October 5.—The capital is now completely in the hands of the republicans, who have formed a provisional government, with Theophile Braga as president. A new national flag of red and green is flying over all the public buildings, including the town hall.

King Manuel, with the Queen Mother Amelie, and his grandmother, the Queen Dowager Maria Pia, has taken refuge at Mafra, 23 miles from Lisbon.

Already the Spanish minister, in full uniform, has called to pay his respects to the republican leaders.

It is impossible to estimate the number of those killed or wounded in yesterday's fighting, but it is expected to reach several hundred. The city has been consequently damaged by the bombardment of the insurgent warships. The buildings occupied by the ministries around the Praca Do Commercio, and the Necessidades were made the particular targets of the shells from the warships, and today show the effects by broken walls and turrets. The tower of the church attached to the palace was demolished.

Thus far, however, no attack has been made upon private property and it is reported that the banks are being guarded by blue jackets.

No news has been received from the provinces, as communication has largely been cut off and despatches and messages of all kinds have been suppressed.

All through the night artillery and rifle fire was incessant and towards dawn it increased in intensity. At 11 o'clock last night, insurgents encamped on the heights of Avenida Da Liberdado tried to force their way to the center of the city, but were driven back by the royal troops. As the latter passed the barracks of the first artillery, they discovered that it was in the hands of rebel civilians. They charged upon the civilians and dislodged them with considerable loss to the rebels.

The night firing was carried on in complete darkness, the electric lights having failed. The insurgents were led by the retired Admiral Carlos Reis. Their forces were greatly augmented by desertions from among the monarchists and they succeeded eventually in getting control of the city. The inhabitants today are parading the streets, most of them with rifles in their hands, singing the Portuguese Marseillaise, which has now become the national anthem. Red Cross ambulances and parties, police and men from the fire brigades are patrolling the streets and removing the dead and wounded.

The revolutionists raided all buildings which flew the old flag and tore down the emblems of the monarchy. The warships greeted the hoisting of

In selecting this jewelry, the Contest Manager was very careful to confer with the jeweler as to what, in his opinion, would be the most attractive to the general contestants, and what, in their opinion, would be better appreciated.

Along Rialto of Atlantic Coast Line.

The two trips to Cuba are to be made as attractive as possible for contestants. While the itinerary has not as yet been actually decided upon, the managers assure a grand vacation for a contestant and her friend,

MISS ETHEL CLOUGH,
Bowden, N. C.

by giving them the advantage of taking two trips to Cuba at their expense. These trips will be over the Atlantic Coast Line to Tampa, with a stop-over at Jacksonville of one day.

Mid-Winter Summer Time.

They will then leave Tampa Bay by steamship to Cuba. There are a good many people in this part of the country who go forth each day during the Winter to face the bitter cold,

MISS LILLY GAY,
Pinetops, N. C.

sleet, and slush of January, February and March, and we really wonder if they know how charming these same months are in the Tropics.

Cuba, for instance. Let us endeavor to give you some idea of Havana during the months spoken of. The days are delightfully warm and pleasant, their warmth tempered by the balmy, steady wind of the South East Trades. The nights are pleasantly cool, making sleeping under a light blanket desirable.

Cuba As It Is.

Cuba possesses an ideal Winter climate, not too warm, and not too cool, in truth, a happy medium. To walk or drive down the beautiful Prado; to see the crowds on the walk-way, ladies in what would be Summer clothes in our country, gentlemen in white linen or Summer suits. To listen to the sweet music at the Malecon, while the light from the tall Morro Castle across the way, swings its white beams across the sky; to watch the never-ending procession of turnouts, coaches, landeaus, drags, tandem and four-in-hands, not to mention the smooth, sweeping rush of the ever-present automobile, the gay crowd, a good natured throng of stylishly dressed ladies, brave in their pretty white dresses, a mantilla here and there to accentuate the sparkle of midnight eyes, and in the midst of it all, the superb band, composed of eightly pieces, gives some smeet melody of Andalusia.

The writer would like to go into further details, as this country never having been seen, is a marvel in itself. Old Spanish forts built back as far as 1600, stand as relics of long ago, picturesque, with its bastions and sentry towers, it carries with it pictures of morion and helmet, of sword and arquebuse, and the darker picture of dungeons and fetters.

There is little doubt in the mind of the Contest Manager, but what the young ladies who take this trip will have enthusiastic topics of conversation for years to come.

Education, Interesting, Remunerative.

There is not a single premium to be given away but that is of great value, either in monetary or educational value.

Of the first prize which is $500, there is but little to be said beyond the fact that $500 is $500 the world over, being in gold, this prize is negotiable anywhere.

MISS MAY KINGSBURY,
Wilmington, N. C.

The second grand prize in the contest is a combination of investment, education and amusement. A piano should grace every home; in fact a home is not complete without it. However, the better the tone of the instrument, the more attractive the case, the better the proposition along all lines.

In selecting the contest piano, the manager endeavored to get the best possible piano obtainable in this part of the country. That is the reason they chose the Ludwig. This piano will soon be on exhibition for the contestants.

The Shetland Pony.

In regard to the fourth grand prize, a Shetland pony and rig was chosen. This pony and rig will soon be in Wilmington and will speak for itself. No expense has been spared on rig and harness, and a pedigree will go with the pony.

This outfit has been purchased from the famous Shetland Farm of Milne Bros., Monmouth, Ill., a firm that has been in business for a number of years, and has supplied Shetland ponies to all parts of the United States, including the Saturday Evening Post, of Philadelphia.

There will also be in connection with this contest six Turkish Rockers. These rockers have been purchased from the Wilmington Furniture Company, and will also be on exhibition in the windows sometime during this week.

The six $25 bank accounts will be in a reliable bank. These may be withdrawn by the winning contestants at any time, however, the Star in offering these prizes, did so with a view of interesting young folks in savings accounts, in safe reliable banks.

The Special Offer.

The special offer on in connection with the great contest, will close next Saturday night, at 10 P. M. It is well for every contestant to put forth their every effort in the next few days, in order to roll up volumes of votes, and make themselves a winner of one of the numerous prizes described in today's paper. This offer consists of giving 35,000 extra votes for every $30 in new subscriptions. New subscriptions being subscribers who are not at present taking the Star, or rather those who were not taking the Star at the time the contest opened. If a party subscribed since the contests opened for four months or more, and wishes to add another subscription to this one, they still are new subscribers.

Regular Votes Issued.

These subscriptions will have the regular number of votes issued on each one.

In other words; 600 votes for a four months subscription which is $2.00, and 1,200 votes for six months, which is $3.00; 3,000 votes for a year's subscription costing $5.00 and 7,500 votes for a two years' subscription, which is $12 and 15,000 votes for a three years' subscription, which is $18. Votes are also issued on renewals when all arrearages are paid.

In securing the club offer, or bonus, any of these may be clubbed together; for instance, a two years' subscription, and a three years' subscription clubbed together will amount to $30; this will give 22,500 as the regular amount, and 35,000 as the extra amount. Or a three year subscription and two one year subscriptions could be clubbed together. In other words, the regular amount of votes will be issued on each subscription, and 35,000 extra votes will be awarded on each club of $30.

Any one not fully understanging the contest should write, phone, or call at the office, and further particulars will be carefully furnished them.

BIG STOCK LOSS NOT PAID.

Discovered in Graft Investigation in New York Yesterday.

New York, Oct. 5.—A speculative stock account showing a loss of $35,000 never made good by the losers was unearthed in the legislative graft investigation which reconvened today. It was a joint one carried in the names of H. A. Robinson, former vice president and general solicitor of the Metropolitan Street Railway, and G. Tracey Rogers, at the time president of the Street Railway Association of the State of New York.

Mr. Robinson testified that this account had been with the firm of Ellingwood & Cunningham, and that Rogers, as a special partner in the firm "had attended to it." After the firm failed its creditors made a demand upon him for $17,455 as his share of the $35,000 loss. He did not, he said, pay the amount.

G. Tracey Rogers explained the motives which had actuated him in recommending to the executive committee of the Street Railway Association, contributions to the campaign funds of various candidates to the Legislature. He had taken this stand, he said, in order that by electing "good, fair, honest men" the street railway interests could count on "better treatment."

Chicago, Oct. 5.—Frank H. Harding, cashier and chief clerk for the William J. Moxley Company, Inc., manufacturers of butterine, was indicted today on a charge of perjury by a Federal grand jury. Moxley, a political associate of Senator Lorimer, is head of the concern.

Harding was arrested and taken before a Federal commissioner. He gave bond for $5,000 and was released.

District Attorney Simms has been investigating alleged illegal coloring of imitation butter for many weeks. The investigation was started on allegations that the National government had been cheated out of large sums in taxes by the fraudulent use of the government label.

Robert R. Bellamy, Wilmington, N. C.

An Open Letter by Iredell Meares to Hon. Chas. B. Aycock.

Hon. C. B. Aycock, Raleigh, N. C.

Dear Sir:—In the Charlotte Daily Observer of October 5th, in a report of a speech delivered by you at Raleigh, you are credited as saying in substance, this:

"He sounded a note of warning that Republicans are listening with favor to holders of fradulent bonds of North Carolina who would saddle on the State liability for fifty or sixty million dollars of fradulent bonds scattered broadcast in reconstruction days and declared that while Republicans deny that they are having any relations with them or would take any steps to commit the State government to burdening the people with the settlement of these bonds, it is a fact that cannot be denied that big contributions from these bondholders and their agents are coming into the campaign fund of the Republican party in the State."

It is well known to you that by Article 14, Sec. 6 of the Constitution of North Carolina, it is provided that the General Assembly shall not "assume or pay, or authorize the collection of any tax to pay, either directly or indirectly, expressed or implied, any debt or bond, incurred or issued, by authority of the convention of the year 1868, nor any debt or bond, incurred or issued by the legislature of the year 1868, either at its special session of the year 1868, or at its regular sessions of the years 1868 and 1869, and 1869 and 1870, except the bonds issued to fund the interest on the old debt of the State, unless the proposing to pay the same shall have first been submitted to the people of the State, at a regular election held for that purpose."

It is manifest, therefore, that the fradulent bonds, issued by the legislature named and to which you referred, cannot be paid until the proposition be submitted to the people of North Carolina and ratified by them at a regular election held for that purpose.

It is equally well known that there is no such proposition before the people of North Carolina in this election. It would be time enough to discuss the matter when any such proposition has been submitted. I do not know of a single public man in the State of North Carolina who is a candidate of either party that has even suggested that he or his party would favor the submission of such a proposition. On the contrary, every one of them have repudiated any such design. The only suggestion of re-opening the question which I know to have been publicly made, was by Col. Neal Archie McLean of Lumberton, in an address delivered before the North Carolina Bar Association at its last session. He is a Democratic State Senator.

I am frank to say to you that neither by my vote, nor influence, nor countenance, would I, directly or indirectly, approve the payment of the bonds in question, nor even re-open the discussion of the matter, looking to any adjustment of them. I believe the bonds to have been fradulent and that the holders of them had full notice of the fact at the time of their improper issue.

It is a grave charge to make, unless you are prepared to substantiate it, that, while Republicans deny that they are having relations with these bondholders or are taking any steps to commit the State government to their payment, "it is a fact that cannot be denied that big contributions from these bondholders and their agents are coming into the campaign fund of the Republican party in the State."

As the Republican candidate for Congress in the 6th Congressional District, with a full knowledge of the management of the campaign in this district, I deny, either directly or indirectly, have any contributions come into this district from either or any holders of the bonds, their agents or attorneys.

I take it that you have made a charge that you would not have made unless you had had evidence of the fact. I would hate to believe that your political partisanship had reached that stage of decadence when you would make a charge of this character without knowing that it can be proven. I think you owe it to yourself as an honorable man and to the people of this State to whom you are appealing, to substantiate this charge with proof that you may have, or apologize to your people for being misled by partisan zeal in making an unwarranted charge. I assure you that, if you will substantiate the charge, I will join you in a denunciation publically of the men, who have received such contributions, and assure you that not $1.00 of any such money shall be received or utilized in the 6th Congressional District by the party I represent.

Yours truly,
IREDELL MEARES.

ARE HELPING REPUBLICANS.

Ex-Governor Charles B. Aycock Makes Charge Concerning Bond Syndicate.

(Special to Charlotte Observer.)

Raleigh, Oct. 4.—Tonight in the court house ex-Governor Charles B. Aycock addressed a representative crowd that taxed its seating capacity. He treated issues of the campaign, presenting Democratic doctrines and portraying fallacies of the Republicanism in State and national politics in the characteristically direct way that he has of doing it. Getting down to Wake county matters and the independent Democratic movement cropping out, he declared that this was no time for independentism in the ranks of Democracy in this county. The fact that such Republican leaders as Col. J. C. L. Harris, "the god of war," and Claudius Bernard were wearing such broad and satisfied smiles should be enough to round up every dissatisfied Democrat well within the regular Democratic fold for the approaching election. He sounded a note of warning that Republicans are listening with favor to holders of fraudulent bonds of North Carolina who would saddle on the State liability for fifty or sixty million dollars of fraudulent bonds scattered broadcast in reconstruction days and declared that while Republicans deny that they are having any relations with them or would take any steps to commit the State government to burdening the people with the settlement of these bonds, it is a fact that cannot be denied that big contributions from these bonholders and their agents are coming into the campaign fund of the Republican party in the State. Following the speech by Governor Aycock, there was the organization of a Wake county Democratic club with more than one hundred members.

Temporary Heat Quickly

Did you ever stop to think of the many ways in which a perfect oil heater is of value? If you want to sleep with your window open in winter, you can get sufficient heat from an oil heater while you undress at night, and then turn it off. Apply a match in the morning, when you get out of bed, and you have heat while you dress.

Those who have to eat an early breakfast before the stove is radiating heat can get immediate warmth from an oil heater, and then turn it off.

The girl who practices on the piano in a cold room in the morning can have warmth from an oil heater while she plays, and then turn it off.

The member of the family who has to walk the floor on a cold winter's night with a restless baby can get temporary heat with an oil heater, and then turn it off. The is invaluable in its capacity of quickly giving heat. Apply a match and it is immediately at work. It will burn for nine hours without refilling. It is safe, smokeless and odorless. It has a damper top and a cool handle. An indicator always shows the amount of oil in the font.

It has an automatic-locking flame spreader which prevents the wick from being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back so that the wick can be cleaned in an instant.

Thursday, October 6, 1910.

A man "higher up" generally stays out of reach.

The right kind of a "club man" is the young man who belongs to the "Corn Club."

"Slippery Jim" seems to have slipped clean out of sight after taking a header on Teddy's toboggan.

If you hear anything making a noise like thousands of shuffling feet, it's nothing but the real good Republicans coming into the Democratic camp.

The investigation into that fraudulent primary election at Norfolk shows that Norfolk men are pretty much all alike when they want their man to win.

The man who "wants but little here below" will find that he can now get very little for his money. Doubtless he is the only man suited by high prices.

The fabulous sum of $37,000,000 is spent on baseball in this country. That amount is in addition to the money paid for the peanuts which go with baseball.

It must not be supposed that Wilmington ladies are all petite or spirituelle because their husbands often find out that their wives have been in their pockets.

The best thing about a Republican is when he is too much of an insurgent to vote for a standpatter who doesn't know his party has already hung distress signals over the tariff wall.

The Congressional candidate who proposes to go to Washington and help to trim the Aldrich tariff schedules, framed in the interest of trusts, is the man for whom to stick in a ballot on the 8th of November.

Secretary Ballinger should not take offense because Tennessee Democrats applauded "Gif" Pinchot. The applause was not because of the Gif's personality but because he talked like a man who was about to repudiate Republicanism.

October is a pleasant month nearly everywhere, but the October of other places grows green with envy because October at Wilmington has so much better chance to make itself perfectly delightful. October likes Wilmington better than it does all other cities put together.

If a voter's big brother were running for Congress with the expectation of voting a tax on his home-folks for the benefit of the over-gorged beneficiaries of the protective tariff, it is safe to predict that the members of the family who work for their living wound vote for the heretic to stay at home and help meet expenses.

North Carolina Republican nominees for Congress are fatuitously preaching protective tariff doctrines to trust victims who are doubtful about being able to support their families by hard work, without being burdened with tariff taxes for the benefit of multi-millionaire trust magnates.

Richmond, Va., gained 51 per cent. in population in the ten years since the 1900 census. A few of the new comers are North Carolinians and that makes Richmond's new population all the more notable. Of course, the North Carolinians are liable to leave Richmond at any time and let those Richmond people take care of themselves as best they can.

By actual count 764 ladies in Gaylord's store yesterday looking at and trying on hats. **

WOODRCW WILSON'S CAMPAIGN.

Dr. Woodrow Wilson, president of Princeton University, and Democratic nominee for Governor in New Jersey, spent a large portion of his boyhood days in Wilmington where his father, the lamented and beloved Dr. Joseph Wilson, served as pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. As the Democratic standard bearer in New Jersey, Dr. Wilson is making an effective and notable campaign. Among other things, he is giving some striking illustrations of the iniquities of the Republican protective tariff.

The New York World notes that in his speech at Red Banks, N. J., a few days a go, Dr. Wilson in discussing the tariff called attention to a pair of halfhose he bought in Aberdeen, Scotland. He not only exhibited the splendid quality of the Aberdeen socks, which apparently will not wear out, but he demonstrated to his hearers the difference in the price paid for Scotland hosery and the higher price paid for an article of poorer quality made in the United States.

The World contends that just as good socks can be made in Newark, N. J., as in Aberdeen, Scotland, but that paper joins Dr. Wilson in showing what the tariff does to American buyers of socks. Wool socks, part wool and part silk socks, and socks made of both wool and cotton, with wool predominating, now pay 44 cents a pound duty and 60 per cent. in addition. Last year under the Dingley tariff the average total rate collected on these goods was figured by treasury experts at 95.75 per cent., so we see that for socks of the same quality we pay nearly twice the price for American socks than for the foreign made article.

A North Carolinian who cannot afford wool and has to fall back on the cheaper cotton socks, has to buy American goods on which the average tariff last year was 67.47 per cent. This does not go to suport his government, but it is for the benefit of the knit goods trust. The good old North Carolina mother who used to knit socks and save money for the family is no longer seen with her knitting needles, because she cannot afford to buy mixed wool yarns with which to do the knitting. The reason why she cannot get such yarn cheap enough to warrant her knitting socks is that such yarns pay a tariff duty of 143.97. This is such a prohibitive tax that only $7.80 worth of such yarns were brought in to this country from foreign lands last year.

On that $7.80 the government collected for itself more than $10, the tax being much more than the yarn. If the importation had amounted to $1,000,000 and the tariff duty had been only 25 per cent., the Government would have received a revenue of $250,000, but owing to the prohibitory tariff there practically no importation of such yarn and hence there was no revenue for the Government. This illustrates how a high tariff produces no revenue while a reasonable tariff puts something in the United States treasury. However, rich American manufacturers take advantage of that high tariff and make the people of the United States pay them millions of dollars in excess of a reasonable price for hosiery.

On silk hose there is a tariff duty of 60 per cent. ad valorem and those who wear silk hose to the value of $5 in Europe pay $8 for the same goods in the United States, the three dollars being a tax levied for the protectiontion of American manufacturers. The yarn tariff under the new Aldrich tariff law is now as follows: On yarn landed in New York at 30 cents a pound the Custom House officials collect a tariff tax of 27 1-2 cents a pound besides a duty of 35 per cent. Yarn worth over 30 cents a pound is taxed 38 1-2 cents a pound plus a duty of 40 per cent. On yarn worth 35 cents a pound the duty would be 150 per cent. This enables manufacturers to get rich and some of them rather than pay the high duty for good yarn to put in their hosiery and clothing, use "shoddy" and palm off on purchasers goods of poor quality at high prices.

IMMIGRATION ARRIVALS.

The latest bulletin of the Department of Commerce and Labor issued a few days ago, indicates that there is another large influx of aliens into the United States. Even though the phenomenal movement of foreigners into this country, witnessed just before the panic in 1907, is in no wise equalled. The bulletin gives the immigration statistics for August and it shows that during the month the arrivals of aliens through all ports of the country reached 78,574, a total moderately greater than that for July and comparing with 59,777 in August 1909, and only 27,782 in 1908. In August 1907, however, the inflow was 98,825. As regards the nationalities of these late comers, there is little new to be said, the greater part of the arrivals being made up of Italians, Hebrews, Poles, Germans, English, Greeks and Scandinavians, with the first-named race predominating.

For the eight months of the calendar year 1910, the immigrant arrivals were 770,315, compared with 660,113 for the corresponding period of 1909, and appearing very large when contrasted with the meagre total of only 248,008 in 1908. However, in the eight months of 1907 no less than 939,909 persons were landed here and in 1906 the total was 840,287. In addition to the immigrant aliens, the August 1910 arrivals include 12,886 aliens returning from temporary sojourns abroad, a total slightly in excess of that for the period in 1909. Combining these non-immigrant aliens with the immigrants, we have a total inflow for August 1910, of 91,460, and an eight months' aggregate of 867,745, these comparing with 71,992 and 788,006, respectively, in 1909, only 39,606 and 328,159 in 1908, and 111,135 and 1,104,863 in 1907.

It seems that a better class of immigrants are coming to this country, among the latest arrivals being a number of skilled workmen besides farm laborers from northern Europe, whence come the more desirable classes of our foreign settlers. With this class of foreigners now coming to this country, there is less complaint in the North concerning lack of hands in the factories and on the farms. At the same time, in agricultural districts in some portions of the North and especially in the South, the demand for immigration is not yet satisfied. Especially in the Southwest there is a steady demand for immigrants, and in Louisiana, since the completion of the government immigration station at New Orleans, there is an earnest effort to secure foreign labor and settlers. The appraiser of the port of New Orleans, in his efforts to hold immigrants in that portion of the South, calls attention this week to thousands of acres of lands in Louisiana available for cultivation by desirable immigrants. He also repudiates the statement that Southern people are unfriendly to the foreigner and declares that Southerners are willing to aid foreigners all they can and are ready to sell them land on reasonable terms.

Greater effort is being made in the southwest to get new settlers, both from this country and from Europe, than is being put forth by any of the South Atlantic States. If we could get a desirable class of immigrants in North Carolina, and especially could induce Canadians and Americans from the northwestern States to come here, there would be a great development, as North Carolina needs thousands of people to utilize the millions of idle lands in the State. Many people will be surprised to learn that, with the exception of Florida and the arid States of the West, North Carolina has the smallest per cent. of improved lands of any State in the Union. Of the 31,000,000 acres of land in North Carolina there were in 1900 but 8,000,000 acres of improved farms. This emphasizes the wide opportunity for development in the State.

WONDERFUL NORTH CAROLINA.

The Star has often called attention to the fact that North Carolina has more varieties of climate and soil than any State in the Union. Beginning with the sub-tropical climate in southeastern North Carolina and going westward to the high mountain regions in western North Carolina, it is said there are all the varieties of climate to be found from Florida to Maine. The Winston Republican last week furnishes as a good example of the different kinds of climate which North Carolina is so fortunate in possessing. Says that esteemed contemporary:

"North Carolina is a great State. The east, the central and the mountain sections furnish climate and productions to suit every taste. Let us illustrate: Strawberries were ripe in eastern Carolina early in the Spring and immense shipments were made to Northern markets. A few months later the strawberry came to its own in the central and more western section. Still later, the past week, Dr. S. F. Pfohl, and Mr. S. G. Rogers returned from a pleasant outing at Roaring Gap in the "big hill" country and brought with them a basket of ripe strawberries which they picked there. Truly North Carolina is a great State in very many ways."

In the great strawberry belt around Wilmington in April fast refrigerator trains carried thousands of crates of strawberries to the Northern markets. In the central portion of the State strawberries do not ripen to any extent till way up in May, while we see that in the great mountain regions they have strawberries ripening as late as September. So we see that covering a period of nearly six months the delicious strawberry is getting ripe somewhere in this wonderful State.

The fact is, there is such a varying climate and diversified soil in North Carolina that more horticultural and farm products can be grown in this State than in any other agrisultural country in the world.

CURRENT COMMENT.

It is costing Butler a barrel of boodle to run his campaign in this State, on the advertising plan he has adopted. Where does he get it?—Newbern Sun.

Why doesn't the Greensboro Republican News call Iredell Meares a "red shirt?" During the "red shirt" period he took about as active a part as any other man in his county.—Newbern Sun.

September, 1910, shows an increase of $1,322 over September, 1909, in the sale of stamps at the Charlotte postoffice. The citizens who are watching Charlotte grow with such gratification do not need to wear glasses.—Charlotte Observer.

We must confess in humiliation and shame that we were compelled to permit the referee to count nine before we struggled to our feet when John Wesley Gaines announced his affiliation with the Republican outfit in Tennessee.—Houston Post.

From Maine to Mexico, and from Oregon to Florida there has arisen a storm of protest against the elimination of "From Greenland's Icy Mountains" from the Episcopal hymnal. The people seem to want their 'icy mountains," and if they do, why not let them have them?—Savannah News.

Marion Butler says he does not believe those capet-bag bonds should be paid by North Carolina, but what promise does he make that, in the event of his ticket being enacted, he will not appear as an attorney for a syndicate representing those carpet-bag bonds? Can a man who while representing his own State in the United States Senate, acted as an attorney for a repudiated bond syndicate to collect money from his own State, be trusted not to act for a carpet-bag bond syndicate? W think not.—Durham Sun.

While insurgency is rather an attitude of mind than a legislative programme, all the insurgents, we believe, denounce the Payne-Aldrich tariff. Col. Roosevelt and the New York Republican convention approve it. Consequently the Des Moines News, organ of Senator Cummins, expresses its opinion of the colonel with brutal frankness. Insurgency, it says, fared better while Roosevelt was in Africa than since he returned to his own country. "He cannot swallow up the insurgent movement and insugency will not swallow him with his indorsement of the tariff bill and his Roots and Griscoms." It concludes that his room is better than his company in the insurgent cause.—Philadelphia Record.

Just after the western North Carolina road was opened through Swannanoa tunnel, Mud Cut came into prominence. A mountain slide set in and as fast as the railroad men would clear away one slide, another would come down. It was the work of a year to permanently remedy the trouble. Now the Carolina, Clinchfield & Ohio road has developed a Mud Cut about 15 miles west of Marion. The first slide occurred about ten days ago. To temporarily obviate the trouble, a track was built around the slide, and now another slide is said to have covered up the side track. It the Carolina, Clinchfield & Ohio officials will find out how the Western North Carolina men finally conquered Mud Cut, they will save time and trouble by going about the solution of their difficulty in the same way.—Charlotte Chronicle.

Butler spoke in Charlotte Saturday afternoon. The party was setting great store by it, but the Chronicle the fairest paper in the country, had this to say about it: "The speech of Mr. Marion Butler, in the court house Saturday afternoon, or so much of it as we heard, was not of the effective sort Butler usually makes. He was mad all over, and a mad man invariably says things that do no good. He was abusive rataer than argumentative; he was disposed to drive rather than to persuade. The speech he made amused some, aroused the indignation of others, but it made no votes. If all of Butler's speeches are set to the same temper, he is going to do the Democratic party very little harm." It is a safe bet that this is the absolute truth. Wade Harris has no axe to grind; he is a free lance and writes what he believes to be the truth. Butler is mad, not so much over the treatment of Democrats as that of his own party—or at least certain members of his own party—who have set out to kill him politically, seeing that their own salvation depends on it. These men are of course going to remain "regular" by voting the ticket, but Butler thinks they are going to hit him when he is not looking and we rather expect he is about right.—Greensboro Record.

Mr. Brown Improving—Big Timber Deal—Other News Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Whiteville, Oct. 5.—The many friends of Mr. R. E. L. Brown, of Chadbourn, will be delighted to hear that he is fast improving. Mr. Brown is now in Hendersonville, N. C., and the climate is so beneficial that he will remain there the balance of the Winter. Rev. Cnas. C. Smith passed through Hendersonville a few days ago and met Mr. Brown. He says he is looking splendid and was in high spirits. His physician says that only one lung is affected, and he promises an entire cure. Mrs. Brown returned home this week, but will leave Hendersonville next month and spend the Winter with her husband.

Mr. D. V. Richardson, formerly of Whiteville, but now engaged in the lumber business in South Carolina, has recently made a $40,000 timber deal in Sumter county, S. C., and will install a large plant there and cut up the timber. Mr. Clarence Richardson, a merchant of Whiteville, is on a deal to sell out his stock of goods here and will move with his family over into South Carolina, and go into business with his brother. Mrs. Richardson came from Wilmington.

Our citizens regret to see them leave. Mr. Richardson says he will not sell his real estate here, but rent it out, as he thinks there is a fine future in store for Whiteville.

It is said that Columbus county will lose the convicts it has been getting from Bladen and Brunswick, as these counties will combine and organize a force of their own. This will considerably reduce our road working squad. Next week the road hands will start making a sand-clay highway from Vineland to Old Dock. The citizens of Wilmington are interested in this work, as several of them own property on the Waccamaw river that a good road will develop. The next work will be starting grading on the Charlotte-Wilmington Highway. Our county intends to build the best stretch of road on the entire highway.

News from around Clarendon is that hundreds of hogs are dying from cholera, several farmers losing all they had. One party had to die some fine hogs that cost him $25 each when pigs.

The Republicans in Columbus county are in the saddle. Hon. Iredell Meares, so your correspondent learns, had about 250 out to hear him at Chadbourn and was given a respectful hearing. Personally Mr. Meares is very popular with the Democrats in Columbus county and they are going to see that he is courteously treated while among them. Hon. I. B. Tucker is booked for a speech at Hallsboro today to fill the appointment of Mr. Meares, who had to miss the appointment to attend to some important business at headquarters.

MR. GODWIN'S APPOINTMENTS.

Will Speak at Different Points in Bladen, Columbus, Cumberland.

Hon. H. L. Godwin, candidate for Congress in the Sixth District, will address the voters at the following places before opening the joint canvass with Mr. Meares a little later:

Columbus county—Fair Bluff, Oct. 13th, 11 A. M.; Cerro Gordo, Oct. 13th, 8 P. M.; Clarendon, Oct. 14th, 11 A. M.; Tabor, Oct. 14th, 8 P. M.; Pireway, Oct. 15th, 11 A. M.

HOLDS WITH THE RAILROAD

Upon Intimation of Court That Plaintiff Could Not Recover Case of King vs. A. C. L. is Non-Suited—Other Cases.

Upon intimation from the court that the plaintiff could not recover for the reason that he was a member of the Relief Department and had accepted benefits therefrom, even after he was injured, thus relieving the railroad of further liability, counsel for the plaintiff yesterday morning in Superior Court here took a non-suit in the action brought by LaFayette King, a young white man against the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company for $10,000 alleged damages for injuries received while in the employ of the company November 10th, 1906.

The case will go to the Supreme Court and the higher tribunal will be given an opportunity to pass upon the particular point involved. The taking of testimony was concluded about 11 o'clock yesterday morning. Judge Whedbee, who is presiding, sent the jury from the room and asked to hear counsel on the question of whether or not the railroad company was exempt from further liability to the plaintiff after the latter had accepted benefits, as brought out in the evidence, after he was injured. The counsel for the railroad contended that the plaintiff elected to take the benefits instead of resorting to a damage suit in the courts, while the counsel for the plaintiff contended that the benefits were accepted only in part and further, that the Supreme Court had held that membership in the relief department did not prevent an employe from recovering damages. On the other hand, attorneys for the railroad contended that the point involved had never been passed upon by the Supreme Court, that the opinion from which counsel for the plaintiff quoted was merely a dictum. After hearing the arguments of counsel on both sides, Judge Whedbee intimated that the plaintiff could not recover, whereupon the plaintiff, through his counsel, took a non-suit. Counsel for the plaintiff stated yesterday afternoon that the case would be taken to the Supreme Court and felt sure that the lower court would not be upheld. The point in question is one of vital importanse to the railroad and a vigorous fight will be made when the case comes up for hearing before the higher tribunal.

Geo. B. Elliott, Esq., assistant general counsel of the Coast Line, and Junius Davis, Esq., of local counsel for the road, represented the defendant company, while Herbert McClammy, Esq., and Kellum & Loughlin appeared for the plaintiff.

The case of H. F. Boney against B. S. Jones & Co., was continued for the defendant, and it was ordered that the costs be paid up to and including this term of court. The case is set as the third for trial at the December term. Rountree & Carr represent the plaintiff, while ex-Congressman G. B. Patterson, of Maxton, appears for the defendant. The latter was not in court, however. The case of I. J. Sternberger against the National Cash Register Co., was continued, and judgments for non-suit were signed in two cases—C. F. Southard, et al., against J. W. Mintz, et al., and L. M. Davis against N. M. Blanto & Co.

The remainder of the day was consumed in the trial of the case of the Erie City Iron Works, of Erie, Pa., against the Standard Supply Company of this city. The plaintiff was asking for $433 for an automatic engine sold and shipped to the Standard Supply Co., for Mr. E. L. Prince in 1906. Payment had been refused by the defendant company on the ground that the engine was defective and could not be made to run satisfactorily. It was the contention of the plaintiff that the engine was in perfect condition when it left the factory and that if it were received here in bad condition, it was damaged in transit, for which the plaintiff could not be held responsible. Some time after the engine was received the company was notified that it was defective. The company advised the employment of a mechanic here, which was done, and later sent one to Wilmington, it was brought out. The defendant sets up a counterclaim of $201.19 for money paid to the local mechanic, cost of telegrams pertaining to the engine and loss of commission by reason of failure to make the sale on account of the condition of the engine. The taking of testimony was concluded late in the afternoon, when argument of counsel was begun, Graham Kenan, Esq. for the plaintiff, speaking first, followed by Robt. Rusark, Esq., for the defendant, and Walter P. Stacey, Esq., for the plaintiff; the case going to the jury shortly after 6 o'clock.

The jury shortly after 8 o'clock last night returned a verdict in favor of the defendant company, the following being the issues and answers:

"Was the engine in good condition when delivered to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company by the Erie City Iron Works?" Answer, "No."

"Did the engine fail to operate properly for defendant? If so, did the causes for its failure to so operate exist prior to the delivery of the engine to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company? Answer, "Yes."

"What amount, if any, is the defendant entitled to recover of the plaintiff?" Answer, $89.19."

"In what sum is the defendant indebted to the plaintiff?" Answer, "Nothing."

The jury allowed the defendant all that was actually paid out in money, but did not allow anything for the commission that the defendant claimed was lost on account of the condition of the engine. It is understood that counsel for the plaintiff, Messrs. Kenan and Stacey, will lodge a motion this morning to set aside the verdict.

It was stated yesterday that the case of Mary A. Lillycrop against the Sovereign Camp, Woodmen of the world, involving $2,250 insurance and interest, has been settled out of court, as was intimated a few days ago would be the result. The insured, a young moving picture man, died in this city several years ago, the circumstances pointing to suicide, and for this reason the Woodmen of the World withheld payment of the policy. The plaintiff claimed that the young man was accidentally shot. The young man was alone when the tragedy occurred and the burden of proof of suicide shifted to the Woodmen of the World. The plaintiff was represented by Hon. John D. Bellamy and Geo. H. Howell, Esq., and Messrs. Bellamy & Bellamy appeared for the defendant.

DANCING SCHOOL.

John F. Kneisel Again Leases the Masonic Temple Ball Room.

Mr. John F. Kneisel, the well known musician, announced yesterday that he has again leased the ball room of the Masonic Temple, and that, beginning Friday, October 7th, a series of informal dances will be given. Mr. Kneisel had the ball room last season and the several dances given there were largely attended and greatly enjoyed by the young people. This sason a dance will be given every week at which music will be furnished by Mr. Kneisel's Orchestra. As last year, the dances will be strictly informal. Mr. Kneisel stated that these dances are given at a large expense and in order that his plans for a dance every week may be carried out, it is necessary that the young men patronize them liberally. The ladies, as formerly, will be privileged to use the floor free, but the gentlemen will be charged the nominal sum of 50 cents for each dance. Spectators are very welcome and are urged to attend.

The first dance of the season, as stated, will be given Friday night, and will begin at 8:30 o'clock. Mr. Kneisel urges a large attendance at this dance, because upon the size of the crowd, on this occasion, will determine whether or not the dances will be continued. Mr. Chas. Terry will be floor manager and will also give private lessons on nights when there is no dance.

NEWS OF THE SHIPPING.

Steamers Bound Here for Cotton—Capt. Calder is Improving.

Two steamers to receive cotton for foreign export, from Messrs. Alexander Sprunt & Son, are bound to this port and one is expected to arrive from Baltimore the latter part of the week. The British steamer Soutra, has already cleared from Baltimore and the steamer Putney Bridge will come from a South American port. Capt. Robinson, of the Putney Bridge, is well knon here, his ship having made several voyages to this port during the past few seasons.

Capt. Calder, of the schooner Silver Spray, who has been confined in the Marine Hospital, since his vessel was picked up at sea and brought in here waterlogged, is steadily improving and will be able to leave the hospital soon. Capt. White, owner of the vessel, who came here from Maine to look after the disabled vessel, hardly believes the repairs to the schooner can be made at this port. Up to the present the extent of damage has not been determined. Efforts are being made to secure a diver to find the leak in order that temporary repairs may be made, but no definite arrangements have been made.

WANTS TO KNOW MARKETS.

Chicago Man Attracted to North Carolina by Recent Press Articles.

Attracted by a number of articles appearing in the Progressive Farmer, of Raleigh, by a well known Wilmington authority, Mr. W. M. Smith, of No. 1 Park Row, Chicago, Ill., has addressed a communication which some one perhaps may answer. Mr. Smith was born in Bladen, but left his native heath in 1870 at the age of 18, however, making frequent visits to his old home. He writes that in Chicago there is an unlimited market for anything and everything grown and what he wants to know now is could he find a market in the course of a year from 50 to 100 miles of Wilmington for 5,000 to 7,000 pounds of pork, 1,000 chickens, principally broilers; 200 to 300 bushels of sweet potatoes, five or ten barrels of cane syrup. In other words, if these products were raised, could they be sold readily on the Wilmington market. It is safe to say that Mr. Smith could find a market for all his products and it would be a pleasure to have him return to Old Bladen and make the experiment.

FOR THEIR VACATIONS.

D. Voshall, master mechanic of the Tidewater, who also leaves today to spend his vacation at his old home near Wilmington, Del. Friends of both wish them a very pleasant trip. During Mr. Sheehan's absence, his position will be filled by Mr. R. J. Shiel, another clever Tidewater employe, who leaves for his vacation on Mr. Sheehan's return. Mr. Sheehan will spend some time in Washington, Philadelphia, New York and other points.

"TIGER" CASES COMPLETED

J. J. Farrow, Asa Skipper, John Capps and William Woebse Tried—Latter Found Guilty—Judgment Reserved in Others.

The trial of the cases against the alleged "blind tigers," worked up by Lang Sellers and D. T. Mayer, which have been occupying much of the time of the Recorder's court since last Saturday, was completed with two special sessions of the court yesterday. Judgment was pronounced in four cases, while the others were left open until this morning.

William Woebse, charged with violating both the State prohibition law and the near-beer ordinance of the city, made practically no defense; was found guilty in both cases, fined $50 and costs in one and judgment suspended in the other, the court being lenient on account of the young man's physicial condition; Harry Cain, who submitted to violating the near-beer ordinance, was required to pay a fine of $25 and costs, while John Capps, charged with violating the near-beer ordinance was found not guilty. Other cases tried yesterday were against J. J. Farrow and Asa Skipper, the judgment of the court being reserved until today.

The first session of the court convened at 9 o'clock yesterday morning, when J. J. Farrow, charged in two cases with selling whiskey to Sellers and Mayer, was given hearing. Walter P. Gafford, Esq., appeared for the defendant and County Attorney Marsden Bellamy prosecuted. Lang Sellers was the principal witness for the prosecution, testifying that on September 29th he went to the defendant's place of business and pawned his watch for half a pint of whiskey, later returning and redeeming the watch and securing more whiskey, for which he paid a quarter. D. T. Mayer testified that he was with Sellers when the bottles of whiskey were secured, but did not see the transfer of any money, though he did notice the watch returned.

The defendant denied selling any whiskey to Sellers. He testified that both came to his place about noon and were so drunk that he had to eject them from his place. His testimony was corroborated by Mr. Clyde Bender and a Mr. Burriss.

At a special session yesterday afternoon, beginning at 3 o'clock, the first defendant to be given hearing was Asa Skipper, whom it is alleged sold Mayer a half pint of gin in the grocery store of D. N. Stanly, corner of Second and Market streets, on September 29th. It will be recalled that Mr. Stanly was first arrested on the charge of selling the gin to Mayer and found not guilty, but as the result of certain testimony developing at that hearing a warrant was sworn out for Skipper. Mayer testified that he paid 25 cents for the gin; that Sellers was with him; that Mr. Cavanaugh, a clerk, was also nearby when the money was passed and the gin delivered. His testimony was corroborated by Sellers, who said that Skipper, after receiving the money, passed it to Mr. Cavanaugh.

The defendant denied that he sold Mayer any whiskey, but admitted that both were in the store at the same time on the 29th; that he drank some whiskey with them at the rear of the store; that Mayer later asked him to sell him some whiskey, but that he told him that he did not have any and was not employed at the store of Mr. Stanly. The defendant said that he was clerk in the store for three or four days about three weeks ago, when Mr. Cavanaugh was sick. The testimony of the defendant was corroborated by Mr. Cavanaugh.

A. J. Marshall, Esq., represented the defendant, and he argued that on one side there was the testimony of two men of bad character with a motive and purpose, while on the other side was the testimony of two men of good character who had told a perfectly reasonable story about what took place in the store on the day of the alleged sale. He said that the matter narrowed down to a question of veracity, Mr Bellamy, in his vigorous argument for the prosecution, said that interest of the witnesses was about the same as he saw it, and declared that the one thing that struck him most in these cases was the fact that the defendants corroborated the prosecuting witnesses in every detail until they got to the alleged sales and then they told a different story. Mr. Bellamy argued that if the prosecuting witnesses had desired to "trump up" cases they would not have covered such a wide area and would have picked out hours when the defendants were alone in their respective places of business.

William Woebse, a young white man, was then placed on trial for selling whiskey and near-beer to the prosecuting witnesses on September 27th. Sellers and Mayer testified to the purchase of a half pint of corn whiskey and three bottles of near-beer. Woodus Kellum, Esq., appeared for the defendant. No testimony was offered. Owing to the condition of the health of the defendant the court was disposed to be lenient and the judgment was as stated above.

John Capps was given hearing on the charge of selling near-beer. It couldn't be shown that he conducted the place of business in which the witnesses allege they bought the near-beer and the case was dismissed. Woodus Kellum, Esq., appeared for the defendant. The witnesses testified that Eugene Harriss sold them the near-beer and a warrant was issued for him.

The trial of the case against Ed. Sampson, colored, charged with assault with deadly weapon on "Bill" Bruton, a white man, was concluded yesterday. The defendant, who was represented by Woodus Kellum, Esq., was found not guilty. Janie Vance, colored, was tried on the charge of disorderly conduct, the offense alleged to have been committed last February. She was taxed with the costs.

FOOTBALL PROSPECTS.

High School Will Have Another Strong Team This Season.

Prospects for a winning team at the High School this season are exceedingly bright. Twenty-five recruits reported for duty yesterday afternoon and seemed to be full of genuine football spirit. A majority of those who reported having had some experience, there are several likely men among the new applicants. Regular practice begins this afternoon under the coaching of Mr. H. S. Shaw. There will be in all probability enough men for two teams. If so the second team will arrange to play several games and will have a captain and manager.

Mr. Shaw is a graduate of Davidson College, having been a tackle on the famous 1907 team, which had good claims for the South Atlantic championship. He has coached Fredericksburg College the past two seasons. Games will be played with Donaldson Military School, Goldsboro High School, Raleigh High School and Kinston High School. The Junior Baraca team and the Cape Fear Academy team will also play. The schedule in full will be published later.

The firm naturally appreciative of these results and does not mind making known its appreciation to those who have assisted in making of their business the great success which it has been.

WILMINGTON TO RETURN.

Weather Permitting She Will Leave Charleston This Morning.

A telegram last evening, from Capt. John L. Harper, who is at Charleston, with a party of friends on the steamer Wilmington, states that the "good ship," weather permitting, will sail for Wilmington on her return trip this morning, with all on board well and in fine spirits, enjoying a most delightful outing. As the steamer made the trip down in a little more than 10 hours, she should reach the home port some time tonight. The Wilmington has undergone some very decided improvements and will return to Wilmington in great shape for the Winter traffic.

New Programme for Academy.

Theatregoers of Wilmington will be interested to learn that Mr. Marx S. Nathan, the popular resident manager of the local playhouse and traveling representative of the Schloss Theatres, has issued an attractive eight-page programme for the 1910-1911 season, which is a decided improvement over the programmes in use at the Academy of Music in former years. Mr. Nathan got up the programme himself and put much time on it, because he considered that the theatregoers of this city were entitled to an up-to-date programme and one that would give an intelligent idea of the production being witnessed.

You must cure the kidneys.
A Wilmington resident tells you how.

A. M. Wilson, 402 S. Fifth St., Wilmington, N. C., says: "I am a strong endorser of Doan's Kidney Pills and shall always praise them. I believe Doan's Kidney Pills the best remedy to be had for kidney trouble. My back was very weak and lame and though I wore plasters and tried liniments I did not get relief. The kidney secretions were so frequent in passage that I had to get up several times at night and they also contained sediment. I heard so much about Doan's Kidney Pills that I decided to try them and procured a box at Robert R. Bellamy's drug store. They cured me after other remedies had failed and it can be plainly seen why I am so willing to recommend them."

A deed was filed for record yesterday morning transferring from Mrs. Mary Bear Schloss and her husband, Mr. S. A. Schloss, to the City Laundry Company, for $10,000, a valuable lot on the east side of Second street, 66 feet south of Princess, the deal for which was principally consummated some weeks ago. The property has a frontage on Second street of 66 feet and has a depth of 165 feet. It is understood that the purchasers will erect on the property a handsome building to be used for the laundry plant, which is now located on North Third street, opposite the City Hall.

Another deed filed for record yesterday transfers from Mrs. Kate T. Manning to Thomas R. Cole and wife, for $100 and other considerations, lot on south side of Queen, 82 1-2 feet west of Seventh street, 41 1-4 x 66 feet in size.

RESIDENCE BURGLARIZED.

Robber Entered Home of Mr. E. B. Pleasants Tuesday Night.

Report was made to the police yesterday morning of a most daring robbery committed Tuesday night in the very heart of the residential section of the city, when a burglar entered the residence of Mr. E. B. Pleasants, northeast corner of Sixth and Princess streets, and stole $10 in money from the trouser pockets of Mr. Pleasants and probably carried away other things. Entrance was effected by removing a screen from a window on a porch downstairs. The burglar then proceeded to the second story and entered the room of Mr. Pleasants and took from his pockets the money as stated above. Other things may have been taken by the burglar, but no report as to this was made. The police are at work on the case, but so far have been unable to trace the burglar.

MESSRS. HEWLETT AND PRICE.

Cash System Now in Vogue at Popular Store—The Benefits.

Messrs. Hewlett & Price, the well known and popular shoe dealers at No. 109 Market street, announce an important change in their business under which in the future everything in their store will be reduced to strictly a cash basis. It takes a bold merchant to install a cash system in Wilmington, according to the old saying, but with the elimination of bad accounts, the cost of an expensive system of bookkeeping and collections, the firm believes that it will be in better position to give the cash customer the benefit of the lowest prices and the best quality of goods and they are going to win on that basis, if such a course will commend itself to the cash buyer, and it certainly should. Dollar for dollar in shoe values will be the motto, but as a special compliment to those of its old credit buyers who care to take advantage of the system, a Register Check rebate system has been installed under which for every $10 worth of checks received the customer will receive in return $1 in trade absolutely free. The customer will readily see by this method that he or she will be able to effect a great saving.

Medicines Made From Roots and Herbs.

In the good old fashioned days of our grandmothers they depended upon medicines made from the roots and herbs of the field to cure disease.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, that standard remedy which is made from roots and herbs for woman's ills, had its origin in this way. For thirty years it has been redeeming its promises written on the label of every bottle by curing thousands of women of feminine ills. It's a good honest medicine.

INQUIRY IS WELL UNDER WAY.

Browne May Not Testify at Lorimer Hearing—Other Witnesses.

Chicago, Oct. 5.—Whether Democratic Minority Leader Lee O'Neil Browne, of the Illinois Legislature, who is under indictment in connection with the election of Senator William Lorimer is to be a witness before the Senatorial Investigating Committee that is inquiring into the election of Senator Lorimer, was not finally decided today.

It was ruled, however, that he could not be allowed to go on the witness stand and answer only certain questions.

Browne and State Senator John Broderick were on the stand for a few moments today, but on the plea of Attorney Dawson, their counsel, that he wished to confer with Associate Counsel before advising his clients what course to pursue, the committee reluctantly granted counsel until to morrow morning to decide his course. Broderic is under indictment on the charge of having bribed State Senator D. W. Holstlaw to vote for Senator Lorimer. The witnesses will then be under the necessity of answering the interrogatories or pleading a constitutional privilege and declining to answer on the ground that their words might be incriminating.

Representative Donahue, a Democrat from Bloomington, testified that he did not vote for Senator Lorimer, and that he sought to prevent Lorimer's election because he believed that if the session had adjourned without electing a Senator a Democrat could have been elected at the next session. Donahue said he had no recollection of having said to Representative Groves that he believed money had been used in the election fo Senator Lorimer, although he said rumors of the use of money in that connection and in behalf of other Republicans were frequently heard before and after the election.

Attorney Haney for the defense summoned Miss Katherine A. Woods of East St. Louis, Ill., to rebut testimony of Representative Charles W. White. Miss Woods declared that in the Fall of 1909 White took her to dinner and told her that he was writing a history of his life and the occurrences in the legislature and expected to make a fortune out of it, and that Lorimer and his "bunch" would have to pay him enough to keep him for life or he would make it hot for Lorimer and his friends.

The witness said that White told her that he was going to run for Congress and that he had spent $3,000 on his history. He said he did not fear results, for he had influential friends.

Her testimony was in direct contradiction to what White said on the stand.

Wm. H. Sturmer, assistant manager of the Briggs Hotel, which is Browne's headquarters in Chicago, said he had heard White threaten that he would falsely swear that he had been bribed to vote for Senator Lorimer and so compel Senator Lorimer and his friends to enrich him.

The conversation, the witness said, was in the presence of himself, White and a travelling man, Fred Zentner.

Sturmer testified that White was drunk at the time, and that Zentner had been drinking all the evening before the alleged threat of White's was made.

Fred Zentner related the same circumstance and conversation.

LUNCHEONS ATTRACTING HUNDREDS OF PATRONS.

The general public will be delighted to know that the ladies of the Hospital Circle of the King's Daughters are succeedingly splendidly with the demonstrations and luncheons beig given at 119 North Front street. There were very nearly a hundred for the delightful incheon yesterday and hundreds of ladies took advantage of the opportunity of seeing the demonstrations by Mrs. W. H. Daniel, an expert in domestic science, and her corps of assistants. The ladies of the Hospital Circle feel that the ladies of Wilmington are missing a great deal in not more generally taking advantage of the proposition to purchase the 9 1-2 ounce cans of the Wesson Cooking Oil at 10 cents each. These are kindly donated for the work of the Hospital Circle by the Southern Cotton Oil Co., and the purchaser not only gets the product much cheaper in these small tins, but in much more convenient form. More than 500 of these cans were sold in Washington, N. C., and the Hospital Circle hopes that Wilmington will do at least as well. The hours are 12:30 to 2:30 and all are invited.

PROBE TRACTION WRECK.

Congressman McKinley Makes Statement—Arrests Made.

Staunton, Ill., Oct. 5.—Coroner H. Dorris Karnes, of Carlinville, and his jury today viewed the 37 victims of yesterday's Illinois Traction wreck and arranged to proceed with the inquest tomorrow at Carlinville, where all the bodies now lie identified.

Congressman William B. McKinley, president of the Illinois Traction Company, said today: "I deeply regret the terrible accident. It was perfectly inexcusable and I cannot imagine how Motorman Lierman forgot his orders, as he was one of the most careful men in the employment of the company."

Motorman Lierman and Conductor Leonard, in charge of train No. 14, were arrested this morning and were held for the coroner's inquest. Each man was found at his home. Lierman was found in his little sitting room with his wife and children, all crying piteously.

"For God's sake, how many were killed?" said the motorman, addressing the deputy sheriff, as he was arrested.

Liermann offered no resistance when taken into custody. Conductor Leonard also went with the officers without trouble. He had suffered a severe scalp wound.

Despite the fact that a heavy rain set in at daylight crowds remained around the morgue waiting a chance to view the bodies.

EVELYN NESBIT THAW BROKE.

Unable to Pay Costs of Prosecution in Damage Suit.

New York, Oct. 5.—Because Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, wife of Harry K. Thaw, is without funds to pay the costs of prosecution, a suit that she instituted nearly two years ago against James B. Regan, of the Knickerbocker Hotel, for $50,000 damages, was dismissed today in the Supreme Court. Mrs. Thaw was ejected from the grill room of the hotel while dining with a friend and she sued on the ground that her dignity had suffered. Mrs. Thaw's counsel made the announcement today that she was without funds.

Theatrical

Another big New York production intact is making its way toward Wilmington. The production is the Roger Brothers' whirling, tremendous musical comedy, "In Panama," and it will be seen at the Academy of Music, this city, the coming Monday night with the original New York company, save for the substitution of the Klein brothers for the Rogers brothers, this being necessary on account of the death of Gus. Rogers. So Wilmington theatregoers may whet up their appetites to see a big New York production Monday night—just such as they witnessed the past Monday night. Seats will go on sale at Plummer's Saturday morning and the prices will range but to $1.50.

No expense has been spared in equipping and staging the piece. The scenic environment, sartorical display, electrical embellishments, are elaborate in all the word implies; nothing that could add to the success or beauty of the production was slighted, let alone overlooked. The musical numbers are each stories in themselves told with elaboration and detail. The production was staged under the personal direction of that master stagecraft Ben Teal. The mere comment that Max Hoffman composed the music is sufficient guarantee that the play is replete with catchy, whistleable melodies. For years he has been considered the leader in music of the light popular kind, and that he extends himself to the last notch is only too palpable when the number of song hits in the play are considered. Aaron Hoffman and Sylvester Maguire wrote the book and their lines are the best and the funniest they have ever contributed. Edward Madden furnished the lyrics and his topical verses and parodies are not only timely but pithy and humorous as well. The most capable players in their particular lines have been secured by Mr. Rich for this production, also a large and beautiful chorus.

"The Girl Behind the Counter."

There is a promise of the best of everything that has made musical comedy entertainments so popular, in "The Girl Behind the Counter," Lew Field's big hit which Mr. Fields has on tour this season, with the original New York Herald Square Theatre production. It will be seen at the Academy next Tuesday night, October 11th. The fact that it is a Lew Fields attraction, assures theatre-goers of a strictly first-class performance.

Everyone who keeps in touch with New York theatrical affairs will readily recall the wonderful success of "The Girl Behind the Counter." It had a longer run than the "Merry Widow" in the metropolis and was the only musical comedy that held the boards in opposition to the famous Viennaese operetta. Of the many successes Mr. Fields has produced, "The Girl Behind the Counter" has proved by far the greatest hit. It is a special company numbering nearly 100, with which Mr. Fields will present this rollicking musical show in this city. Dick Bernard, the popular Teutonic comedian, has been entrusted with the leading role. Miss Lottie Fremant, Miss Nanon Jacobes, Miss Virginia Foltz, Eugene McGregor, Miss Louise Gardner, Stephen Scott, Miss Ethel Millard, Miss Edna Kerr Miss Maisie Ivie, Charles Stewart, John H. Pratt, Vincent McCarthy, Richard Murphy, William Singer and Miss Agnes Major are among the principals.

Strongest of the Dixon Plays.

Playgoers of this city are looking forward with the liveliest anticipation to Saturday of next week, October 15, at the Academy, when "The Sins of the Father" will be presented by a notably excellent company under the direction of Manager George H. Brennan. Although but recently produced, the fame of Thomas Dixon's newest drama has traveled fast. The verdict of critics and public alike is that this play is by far that master craftman's strongest work. It deals with the great problem of the intermixture of races. The plot hinges on the suspicion that a beautiful young woman, a guest in an aristocratic home is tanted with the stain of negro blood.

At the Bijou Today.

The Bijou offers its patrons a splendid bill today. The feature pictures are "Cowboy Chivalry," a story that abounds in thrills and is splendidly played, and "The Modern Prodigal," a story in symbolism showing the result of youth's egotism, perhaps the most dangerous quality man can cultivate, for it makes one over-confident of his strength and purpose.

The Hinshaw Singers Tonight.

The Lyceum Course arranged by the Boys' Brigade begins tonight, the opening attraction being the famous Hinshaw Grand Opera Singers, who will give a concert in the armory, corner Second and Church streets. The company is composed of singers of wide reputation and the music lovers are promised a rare treat. The reserved seat sale commenced yesterday morning at the plumbing establishment of Messrs. W. R. Dosher & Co., on North Front street, and will continue through today. There are remaining only a few season tickets and those who wish to secure them should call early today.

TENNESSEE DEMOCRATS.

Regulars Meet at Nashville Today to Name a Ticket.

Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 5.—The State convention of "regular" or "harmony" Democrats, meets here tomorrow for the purpose of nominating a candidate for governor and a candidate for State railroad commissioner for western Tennessee.

Large delegations have been appointed in the various counties mainly composed of former followers of Governor Patterson, with a few independents.

It appears to be the general opinion that United States Senator Robert L. Taylor will be the nominee, although he is said to be anxious to have the nomination conferred upon some other man. Judge Joseph E. Jones, State Senator John Randolph Neal, are talked of for governor.

It is reported the platform will declare for local option, either county unit or city unit, and the repeal of the law which prohibits distilling and brewing of intoxicants.

ON THE GRIDIRON.

Davidson Loses to V. P. I.

Blacksburg, Va., Oct. 5.—A touchdown by the visitors on a fumble early in the first quarter, and a goal, three touchdowns and a goal for the Techs with a final score of 16 to 6 in favor of the latter, tells the story of a hotly contested game here this afternoon in which Virginia Polytechnic Institute wiped out their defeat of three years ago by Davidson College. With the ball on Davidson's five yard line, the home team lost a chance to score in the first quarter. Hughitt, quarterback, was the star for the Techs, his run being the feature of the game. Virginia worked the forward pass several times.

Pennsylvania Winner.

Philadelphia, Oct. 5.—Franklin and Marshall gave the University of Pennsylvania a hard battle here today, the home eleven winning by the score of 17 to 0. The visitors were full of life and once held Pennsylvania for downs inside the five yard line. The Quakers made good use of the forward pass and it scored one of the touchdowns. Mercer was the star of the Pennsylvania team until compelled to leave the game because of injuries.

Yale Defeats Tufts.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 5.—Yale won from Tufts 17 to 0 this afternoon, with the scoring only in the first half. The other half Yale put in substitutes, who were fooled by a novelty in formation worked by Tufts for repeated gains, but which formation was so crudely played that the visitors themselves by fumbling lost advantage gained by it. One fumble helped Yale to a touchdown and the others came by line plays. One goal was missed. Tufts once held Yale for downs on its four yard line.

Princeton Victorious.

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 5.—Princeton easily defeated Villanova at football on University Field this afternoon by the score of 36 to 0. The game was open and the forward pass was frequently used by Princeton with success.

The home eleven scored five touchdowns, a field goal and three goals from touchdowns. Bard's field goal from the 40-yard line was the feature of the game. Pendleton made several brilliant runs through broken fields.

AFFAIRS AT THE CAPITAL.

Winston-Salem Southbound Files Rates—Death of Mr. Beasley.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 5.—The Winston-Salem Southbound Railway filed with the Corporation Commission today official notice that the railroad which is being constructed jointly by the Norfolk and Western and the Atlantic Coast Line from Winston-Salem to Wadesboro, is ready to receive carload shipments of freight from Lexington to Tuckertown, a distance of 26 miles with Cotton Grove and Newsome as intermediate stations.

There is the further statement that the company expects to before a great while now have the sections of road between Winston-Salem and Lexington and between Tuckertown and Wadesboro ready for traffic. The company files with the Commission its schedule of freight rates for the entire line, the scale of rates being about the same as now in force on the Seaboard Air Line in this State. The rates are just a little higher than the Commission's standard rates.

An amendment to the charter of the Fayetteville Real Estate Co., is filed with the Secretary of State changing the name to The MacKethan Land Co., E. R. MacKethan being the president of the corporation.

Robert S. Shields, of Carthrage, is commissioned by Judge H. G. Connor as United States Commissioner at Carthage to succeed H. A. Foots, deceased.

Deep regret is expressed here at the news of the death of S. M. Beasley, of Curituck county, who has served six years as a member of the lower House of Representatives and two as State Senator and who had the deepest sympathy of the people of the whole State a few years ago when his son was kidnapped without any trace of the whereabouts of the lad being discovered, although the kidnapper was convicted and killed himself before he began a twenty-year sentence. The mystery of the kidnapping and terrible sorrow for the loss of his son brought about premature death and cut-short a useful career.

As many as 19 indictments, it is said, have been pending against him since his incarceration in the penitentiary.

BLOOD DISEASES
CONTAGIOUS TROUBLES

Contagious Blood Poison more thoroughly permeates the system than any other disease. Its infectious virus contaminates every corpuscle and tissue of the circulation, and for this reason its symptoms are of a varied nature. When it enters the blood it is but a short time until the mouth and throat begin to ulcerate, the skin becomes spotted, rashes and eruptions appear on the body, sores and ulcers break out, the hair falls, and frequently nails on hands and feet thicken and come off. Mineral medicines which simply shut the poison up in the system should be avoided, for when such treatment is left off the old disease will break out again, often worse than before. S. S. S. cures Contagious Blood Poison permanently, and it does so because it thoroughly purifies the blood. S. S. S. goes into the circulation, and drives out the last trace of the destructive germs, adds richness and vigor to the circulation and allows it to nourish the diseased portions of the body back to health. S. S. S. is purely vegetable, being made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, without a particle of mineral, and its vegetable ingredients always hasten the cure by toning up the stomach and digestive members. Home Treatment book and any medical advice free to all who write.

REACTION ON COTTON MARKET

Market More or Less Irregular Throughout the Day—Renewal of Selling Movement Toward Close—Features.

New York, Oct. 5.—While more or less irregular the cotton market showed more of a reactionary tendency today and closed barely steady with prices showing a net loss of 6 to 16 points; active months being generally 6 to 9 points under the closing figures of yesterday.

The market opened steady at a decline of 4 to 9 points in response to lower cables than expected and a renewal of the selling movement noted toward the close yesterday. Aside from the cables, however, these seemed nothing in the news to strengthen bearish sentiment, offerings were remarkably well absorbed by continued outside buying or support from trade sources and shortly after the call prices firmed up on covering by recent sellers; commission house buying and in sympathy with a late rally in Liverpool. Trading became very active as prices advanced, and during the middle of the day the active months sold some 8 to 11 points above the closing figures of last night. This carried prices back to within 6 or 7 points of yesterday's high record and above 14.25 for January. Offerings again became heavier possibly as a result of realizing by the old bull leaders, while the demand from outside sources appeared to be less active. This encouraged a renewal of selling for a reaction by local traders and the market later in the day eased off to about the previous low point with subsequent fluctuations nervous and the close within a point or two of the lowest. Weather news attracted comparatively little attention, and reports from the South as to spot market conditions were more or less conflicting, but beyond the decline of 1-8c at Savannah there was nothing to indicate any actual pressure of spot cotton and other Southern markets officially reported early were unchanged to 1-4c higher.

Receipts at the ports today 51,280 bales against 55,362 last week and 70,821 last year; for the week 425,000 bales against 390,528 last week and 419,627 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 5,171 bales against 10,082 last year.

Spot cotton closed quiet; middling uplands 14.10; middling gulf 14.35; sales none. Futures opened steady and closed barely steady.

COTTON MARKET YESTERDAY.

No Loss of Confidence Among Long Interested—Favorable Weather.

(Special Star Telegram.)

New York, Oct. 5.—While there is no loss of confidence among the large long interests as to the future course of prices, the Western and Wall street buyers have been free sellers during the past two days, taking profits.

These realizing sales have been taken by brokers thought to represent the interests above mentioned. There were also hedging sales against purchases of spots, but no desire to anticipate a decline in prices. Undoubtedly the continued favorable weather over the cotton belt is bringing the late cotton forward, without, however, changing the views of those who look for a supply of cotton well below the consumption. Liverpool should be seven points lower tomorrow.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

STOCK MARKET CONDITIONS

Selling Yesterday Turned Prices Downward—Newly Awakened Demand for Bonds Hurt by Action of Market.

New York, Oct. 5.—The selling of stocks which turned prices downwards today represented in part a feeling of contentment over the extent of the advance already achieved, and the profits accrued and in part a misgiving over the adequacy of forces to accomplish further advance. Evidence that the newly awakened demand for bonds was being harmed by the action of the stock market was a potent factor in checking the organized efforts to further the rise in stocks.

Light is thrown on the revival in the bond market as well as on the events that preceded it by the statistics of new capital issues, which have been made up by the Journal of Commerce. For the third quarter of the present year just ended this compilation shows new bonds issued of a par value of $194,455,000. This compares with $417,147,000 in the second quarter and $613,283,000 in the first quarter, making an aggregate for the first half year far beyond any precedent in the history of the New York money market. Moreover, that prodigious semi-annual output was a culmination of a flood of issues for the preceeding year which reached a total of $1,681,620,680. It is known that the banks throughout the country have applied a like restrictive force on credit expansion for land and automobile purchase, irrigation projects and other enterprises. The diminution in the rate of the supply offered for new investment is seen therefore to have reached a very large total. A gradual process of digestion has gone on, in the meantime, which has reduced the large holdings left on the hands of underwriters in the glut of new offerings early in the year. Dealers in bonds have come to the underwriters to replenish their supplies and savings banks and investment institutions have become buyers. This helpful process has gone to the root of the recent difficulties and the most favorable auguries are drawn from it.

The fear that a premature revival in the stock market will interfere with the orderly readjustment of the needed financing by bond issues has an influence in restraining the stock market. The revolution in Portugal was of minor effect on the day's market. Expectation of a poor showing to be made by next Monday's report of October first unfilled tonnage orders of the United States Steel Corporation weighed on sentiment. The tone of the coppers was better in the belief that curtailed production last month will make a better showing in the forthcoming copper products report.

Time money was reported slightly easier in tone, but foreign exchange was strong and cash continues to go out from New York to the interior.

Bonds were heavy. Total sales par value $2,964,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales stocks today 489,600 shares.

THE GRAIN MARKET.

Chicago, Oct. 5.—Big buying rushed up the price of wheat today. A large part of this purchasing was credited to a prominent local speculator, who had covered a short line of several million bushels a few weeks ago. Bears took fright, and there was a strong close at a net advance of 1 1-4 to 1 1-2c. Latest quotations showed a rise, too, in all other leading staples—Corn 3-8 to 3-8 to 7-8c; oats 1-8 to 1-4, and provisions 7 1-2 to 10 to 32 1-2c.

those which contain organied agricultural interests. The law which would fix prices for articles dealt in by a trust, a pool or a commercial organization of any kind would give authorities the right to fix the price at which farm products could be marketed under an organized association or individual agreements

"You are, therefore, vitally interested in the control which the National Government proposes to exercise over your business agencies. You will be affected to a greater extent than any other industry. Legislation proposed for the control and regulation of the products of the factory applies just as well to the products of the soil. Such legislation will regulate the marketing of potatoes handled through agricultural organizations just the same as it will the marketing of pig iron.

"Manufacturing, commercial and labor combinations are so intrenched in the business life of American that we may accept them as permanent organizations with which we must deal in the future. They make for economy and expedition in business, increase the returns to the members, no matter whetner they be organizations of merchants, manufacturers or laborers.

"In a few years the farmers will be organized just as the men are who deal in other commodities through their organizations. They are beginning to understand and heed the advice of progressive farmers who are realizing that the only protection for the farmer is perfect organization. The manufacturers greatly increase the profits and protect their business through organizations which they loyally support. Farmers are beginning to see that what is good for the manufacturers is good for them. The farmers are the last of the great interests to undertake organization. They already have several thousand selling organizations in the country. They are learning that combinations of their strength and co-operation are as profitable to the man who produces and sells farm products as to the business man who forms a trust, or to the laborer who gets up a union, or to the merchant who has his agreement."

NEW YORK CATHEDRAL.

Most Magnificent Religious Edifice in Country Consecrated.

New York, Oct. 5.—With impressive ceremonies St. Patrick's Cathedral, the most magnificent religious edifice in the country, was formally consecrated today to the worship of God. Never in the history of New York have so many princes of the Catholic church archbishops, bishops, monsignors and other dignitaries gathered here to participate in any ceremony. Fifty thousand devout spectators added to the grandeur of the occasion. The consecration, made possible by the uplifting of the debt of $850,000 against the cathedral, which has stood since its completion 31 years ago, was the crowning achievement of the long career of Archbishop John M. Farley.

With the celebration of a pontificial high mass by Cardinal Gibbons, the consecration ceremonies proper, which began at daybreak, were brought to an impressive close this afternoon. But exercises continued through the evening and will not end until Sunday.

AVIATOR AT RICHMOND.

Johnston Makes Flights at State Fair Yesterday.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 5.—After making his usual highly successful flight with his Wright aeroplane at the State fair here this afternoon, Ralph Johnstone, the aviator, undertook to make a short flight with Mayor Richardson as a passenger when after rising about 50 feet from the ground and going a short distance, the flying machine suddenly fell from a height of 30 feet to the earth and was temporarily put out of commission by a small breakage, though neither the mayor nor Mr. Johnstone was hurt. It is said that the mayor in waving his hand to the crowd touched a certain wire and thus cut off the current from the motor. Those in charge of the aeroplane say it will be repaired during tonight for tomorrow morning and will be ready for the flight scheduled for tomorrow afternoon. It is estimated that at least fifty thousand people saw the flight today.

Lisbon, October 6.—The yacht Amelie has put out to sea with the Duke of Oporto Infanta Alfonso, who embarked at Cascaes. It is believed that the yacht is going to take aboard other members of the royal family at Peniche or Ericeira.

the republican flag with salvos of artillery.

Eusebio Leao, the republican leader, made a speech from the balcony of the town hall, saying that he entrusted the policing of the city and the maintenance of order to the care of the citizens.

"Respect all public and private property," he exclaimed, "and the life of all persons, who ever they may be. The republic is generous and magnanimous.

The huge crowd that had gathered around the building cheered the speaker frantically.

Notwithstanding the thrilling events of the past two days the people are now showing composure, and it seems likely that order in the city of Lisbon will be maintained. It is rumored that General Gorjas, who commanded the defending forces, committed suicide when he saw that the fall of the palace was inevitable.

The provisional government is composed as follows:—President—Theophile Braga; Minister of Justice, Alfonso Costa; Minister of Foreign Affairs, Bernadino Machado; Minister of Finance, Bazilio Telles; Minister of Public Works, Antonio Luiz Gomes; Minister of War, Colonel Barreto; Minister of Marine, Amarzo Azovado Gomes; Minister of the Interior, Antonio Almeida; Civil Governor of Lisbon, Eusebio Leao.

As Viewed at Madrid.

Madrid, October 5.—The Spanish government has dispatched automobiles to Portugal and has also sent warships in an effort to learn the exact situation in that country.

The dispatches received here from the scene of the trouble are conflicting, but all agree that a fierce engagement took place between the revolting regiments and the royalists. The Portuguese government, so soon as it learned the extent of the uprising, decided that it would be safest to have King Manuel leave the palace. Both the King and the Queen Mother showed calmness in the face of the great calamity to the monarchy.

Late official advices from Lisbon by way of the frontier, are to the effect that the greater part of the army remained faithful to the King. Communication with Lisbon, from outlying districts, however, has been impossible as the revolutionists cut all the bridges and blocked the highways in order to prevent the advance of the troops hurrying to the succor of the King. Nevertheless, the garrison at Elvas is now advancing on Lisbon and the garrison at Oporto is prepared to leave for the capital on a moment's notice.

Premier Canalejas said tonight that he was ignorant of the whereabouts of King Manuel, but was certain that he was safe and possibly on his way to Gibraltar in an English warship.

To add to the confusing reports concerning King Manuel, it was stated at the Portuguese legation tonight that the King was aboard a Brazilian warship. It is not questioned that the King succeeded in eluding the revolutionists who, according to one report, were not anxious to have him on their hands.

The greatest uneasiness prevails in Madrid, but all is quiet, although the fear was expressed in political circles that disorders may occur here tonight. The government has taken the most elaborate precautions to ensure order, and it is understood that the troops at the garrison at Seville are ready to depart for the Portuguese frontier. The cruiser Carlos V., sailed for Lisbon tonight.

Keen Interest in Rome.

Rome, Oct. 5.—The events in Portugal are being followed here with the keenest interest, especially at the Vatican, where the news of the revolution has distressed more than it has surprised. The Pope particularly has been moved by the tragic events and has offered prayers that a solution may be found to avoid further bloodshed.

The Vatican distinctly desires to contradict the statement that King Manuel has been too friendly to the clerical party. The recent religious trouble in Portugal and the speech from the throne a few weeks ago, it is pointed out, demonstrate the erroneousness of the statement. In that speech the King threatened a repetition in Portugal of the policy which Premier Canalejas is conducting in Spain.

News at London.

London, Oct. 5.—The foreign office has just received a telegram from the British minister, Sir F. H. Villiers, at Lisbon, declaring that a republic has been proclaimed. The telegram follows:

"A serious disturbance broke out here (Lisbon) Monday night, when some troops of the garrison declared themselves republicans. Fighting occurred throughout yesterday morning.

"Troops heretofore loyal went over to the revolutionists and a republic was proclaimed. Great excitement prevails. The proclamation of a republic was received enthusiastically by the people.

"I believe that a provisional government is being formed.

"King Manuel is said to be at Mafra (18 miles northwest of Lisbon) at the Royal Palace with the Queen-Mother and the Prince Royal, but I have no precise news."

Portugese Consul Surprised.

New York, Oct. 5.—News of the revolution in Portugal came as a complete surprise to Audifaco S. Gonvra, acting Portugese consul in this city. Mr. Gonvra said he had no intimation that such an upheaval was imminent, and he is without advices from his government. Regarding conditions in Portugal, Mr. Gonvra said:

"I was in Portugal a year ago. Unrest was abroad and Republican sentiment seemed to be growing. Plots and counter plots were common.

"Then there is the church question to complicate matters. The anti-clerical feeling is to a great degree co-extensive with the anti-Monarchical feeling. What surprises us most in the dispatches is the fact that the army and navy turned against the King. Hitherto they have been uniformly loyal. Of course, if they have actually turned against him, which I am still a little inclined to doubt, the present revolution will be permanent. The troops hold the key to the situation."

Still Awaits Advices.

Washington, Oct. 5.—All through today the State Department awaited advices from American minister Gage at Lisbon, but presumably because of the interruption to the telegraph service no word came from the scene of the Portugese revolution. The Portuguese legation was similarly without official advices.

The proclamation of a republic at the Portugese capital is regarded by the State Department officials as the natural consequence of the revolution and the flight of the King. What the immediate outcome of the plans of the projectors of the republic will be officials here do not conjecture, for it is recognized that a republic travels a rocky road in its infancy.

The Washington government's interest in the situation is more that of a matter of information, for American interests in Portugal are slight while Britis hinterests, for instance, are great. For that reason the matter of naval representation has not been officially raised so far as there are no indications that Americans are imperilled.

of the country in a spirit of friendly business intercourse and with a realization that most of their interests are shared in common. We cannot conceive of any catastrophe to the banking interests of the country which would not be harmful to trust companies, and vice versa. Their successes anr misfortunes would be inextricably woven together. In this spirit of comradeship the banks are observed to be meeting them more and more. This has been shown in recent years very clearly in the meetings of this Association when bankers and trust company officers serve together on important committees, with the common object before them of establishing and extending a sound and conservative banking policy throughout the United States.

"At present there does not seem to be any cause for apprehension that the banking situation is in danger of being undermined. The deposits in banks and trust companies in New York are at unprecedented figures and the required reserves of the banks are further fortified by the cash reserves of the trust companies not required to be held when the panic of 1907 was upon us. Hot winds have been blown but our farmers and statisticians promise us abundant crops. Furthermore, the people of the whole country have learned the value of prudence and reasonable economy. No one has been able to escape the educational features of our recent financial experiences, and we are all anxious to work on a more healthy and sound basis than during the mad rush of four or five years ago.

"In our political life there is still need for promptings to caution and reflection. Acts by individuals in great public office with widespread influence and authority may be far-reaching in their effect, and when suddenly exerted have a tendency not merely to create a feeling of uncertainty and fear for the future on the part of all property interests, certainly of considerate action on the part of the government and the courts being the greatest possible factor towards national and financial development.

"Undoubtedly the most important problem before the country is one which, as they say of the poor, we have always with us. It is the so-called currency question. Since so much labor and study has been expended on this subject by students, financial experts and practical bankers I shall not presume specifically to advice any particular legislation. Some enactment, however, looking to a change we must have, and it is for us to devote our serious attention to this subject and to extend our support to those engaged in the work of reformation to the end that we shall not each year meet a situation where we have either too much money for the reasonable demands of business, thereby encouraging speculation through low rates for loans, or have an expanding business handicapped by a fixed and limited currency actually subject to contraction through the process of reserve requirements when brought into frequent use in credits and deposits. I will only put before you one thought on this subject: Shall we always persevere in a required reserve against deposits which makes that reserve practically dead money since it cannot be used? Would it not be well to encourage the retention of much larger reserves than are now held by means of publicity and notice, but have the reserves free for use whenever needed?

"The bankers of the country have the greatest confidence in the results of the labor unsparingly devoted to these subjects by the National Monetary Commission, who have devoted conscientious, thorough and extended study and analysis to the diverse financial requirements of our populous and extended country, and when at length we receive from them the substance of their work and recommendation we should be ready to give them a fair and temperate hearing."

Louisville, Miss., October 5.—For the first time since his trial began, Swinton Permenter, charged with assaulting and murdering Miss Janie Sharp, a planter's daughter, showed signs of nervousness. The ordeal of the trial and evident hostility of the spectators seems to be telling on the accused. Lee Snarp, Miss Sharp's brother, testified today to finding his sister's body.

MADAM ELDON

The World's Greatest Clairvoyant Palmist

A true clairvoyant is born—not made. Madam Eldon is not a clairvoyant from choice, but because fate has so decreed it. Her ancestors were powerful mediums and have for ages handed down their wonderful power of gift from generation to generation. So she has received the rich inheritance together with combined knowledge and priceless experience of generations. No matter what your past experience has been you will save time and avoid disappointment by at once consulting her.

Are we not in a world of advancement? Has not every other mental science advanced also, and why not this gift which the One above bestowed upon him whom He desires? There are many so-called clairvoyants, mediums, psychologists, etc., but there must be some real ones.

Madame Eldon is gifted with this wonderful power which God gives to but few people. Can help you if you consult her.

Ready to Measure You for a

Fall Suit

If a Broadway tailor shop had been bodily transplanted to this store it could not offer a richer, handsomer, snappier display of exclusive Fall Woolens than these famous Tailors have sent us.

Our expert measure taker will take your measure, and we guarantee a fit and satisfaction in every case.
